MEXICO CITY, March 6.—(UP)—Federal troops recaptured Monterrey, capital of Nuevo Leon, today from the rebels, the government announced today.

MEXICO CITY, March 6.—(UP)—Federal troops were massing from all directions today in a double drive on Monterrey, capital of Nuevo Leon captured by rebels.

Gen. Juan Almazan, who left Monterrey originally to direct the Vera Cruz campaign, was returning to his headquarters with a brigade in an attempt to drive out the rebels and recapture the city.

Besides Almazan's advance, another was being undertaken by loyal forces from the state of Tamaulipas, under the command of Gen. Eulogio Ortiz, who is now establishing communications along the San Juan river.

Meanwhile, federal troops in Sonora were reported to be impeding the advance of Francisco Manzo from Navajo by wrecking communications and at the same time maintaining contact with rebel advance patrols.

The loyal troops were under the command of General Jaime Carrillo. A dispatch to the newspaper Excelsior said a battalion of volunteer loyalists was being organized at Tampico in Tamaulipas.

Northern Mexico was quiet but tense today as rebel leaders moved to engage in important conflicts with federal forces.

Major interest centered in the state of Nuevo Leon where General Gonzales Escobar, supreme commander of the rebellion sought to

GIRL IN FRAUD CASE FREED
OAKLAND, March 6.—(UP)—After completing a six-months jail sentence for aiding her mother in a plot to defraud the Key system of $50,000, Isabel Robertson, cafe entertainer, was free today.

Mrs. Bernice Huffman, mother of the girl, filed a $50,000 damage suit against the Key system after the Peralta ferry disaster. The mother said her daughter was one of the victims.

Miss Robertson subsequently was found in an Alameda county roadhouse. Mrs. Huffman was paroled after serving five months in jail.

NEW DIRECTORS ARE CHOSEN BY C. C. MEMBERS

Former Junior Chamber Boys Win Battle of Ballots In Annual Vote

MEMBERS of the former Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce today had won in their "battle of ballots" to elect men of their selection to the board of directors of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

The five chosen from a list of 15 nominees were Fred Forgy, re-elected; Fred Crowell, Bob Fernandez, Allison Honer and Ernest Winbiger.

Ballots voted yesterday numbered 175, the largest ever cast in an election for directors, it was reported.

According to reports, the group of young men identified with the junior chamber when it merged with the senior body waged a special battle in behalf of the men elected.

Special sample ballots were used in promoting selection of the representatives of what is termed the younger element in the city booster body. The five men will serve for three years.

The new men will take their seats at the meeting of the board next Wednesday morning, when it also will be necessary to elect new officers, as the term of President Clyde Downing expires with that meeting.

Others who sever connection with the board are W. H. Spurgeon, Sam Hurwitz and J. F. Burke.

Hold-over members of the directorate are L. D. Coffing, W. C. Jerome, Harry Hanson, J. C. Wallace W. N. Vandermast, Carl Mock, B. E. Mortland, O. H. Barr, J. P. Baumgartner and Col. S. H. Finley.

JAPANESE DEPUTY KILLED BY WORKER

TOKIO, March 6.—(UP)—A reactionary longshoreman was held by police today, charged with the assassination of Senji Yamamoto, proletarian representative in the Japanese diet.

Yamamoto was stabbed to death last night by the longshoreman, Kuroda, after a political dispute.

Kuroda demanded that Yamamoto resign because of his alleged extremism. Yamamoto indignantly refused and Kuroda drew a dagger and lunged at the deputy, striking him in the throat and lung.

Two Seamen Hurt
When 50-Mile Gale
Whips U. S. Field

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(UP)—An all night fight to save three blimps of the army and navy ended today with the calming of a 50-mile an hour gale that had whipped Bolling field for the last 16 hours.

In the struggle two seamen were injured clinging to the ground cables of the bobbing gas bags, and the navy blimp J-4 was deflated with the accompanying loss of valuable helium gas that filled the bag.

The other craft, the navy J-3, and the army TC-5 returned this morning to Langley field, Va., where suitable moorings are available. The cage of the J-3 was partly smashed, the ship otherwise escaping damage.

Indiana Democratic Leader Succumbs After Illness Of Four Months

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 6.—(UP)—Thomas Taggart, 73-year-old Indiana Democratic leader, died here today after an illness which had kept him confined to his home for four months.

Taggart's wife was with him when he died. The famous veteran of numerous national political campaigns, collapsed just before he was to go to the polls to vote for Alfred E. Smith for president last November. Since then his life has hung in the balance.

A stomach ailment was given as the cause of Taggart's death by physicians who had treated him during the last months of his decline. Late yesterday the doctors announced that he was very low. Today they gave up hope and a few hours later the man whose name was synonymous with the Democratic party in Indiana, expired.

Flight Planned In Opposition To Aviation Measure

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—(UP)—Thirty airplanes containing bay district aviators will take off from Mills field here Friday for Sacramento to oppose the proposed state aircraft bill, it was announced today.

Thomas R. Mitchell, manager of the local chapter of the National Aeronautical association, will head the membership of the Pilots and Operators' Association of Northern California, which will make the flight and appear before the assembly.

"Keep aviation out of politics" is the war cry adopted by the aviators. A similar squadron is expected to leave Los Angeles early Friday and fly over the capital in formation with the local delegation.

EXTENSION OF MAIL DELIVERY SERVICE ASKED

Postmaster Petitions Washington For Increased Facilities Here

EXTENSION of city mail delivery to include 470 residences not now served by city carriers, extension of three-trip deliveries to include a larger business area than is now given the three-trip service and the addition of three carriers are petitioned for in papers sent this morning by Postmaster T. E. Stephenson to the post office department at Washington D. C.

"It is a spring clean-up," said the postmaster. "We are asking for permission to readjust all carrier routes to meet the needs that have developed through the growth of the city."

For the past six weeks, Superintendent of Mails L. F. Harvey and Foreman C. C. Langley have been making an intensive study of the needs of the city carrier service. Every carrier route has been inspected, all mail delivered counted and weighed, the number of stops made by the carrier and the distance travelled by him noted. This data has been forwarded to the Division of Post Office Service at Washington as a basis for the request for additional carriers.

The post office here is asking that one of the three carriers sought in the petition be assigned to parcel post service and two to proposed new routes. The report shows that some of the routes have grown so heavy that substitutes have had to be used to help out the regular carrier. This growth has been going on steadily since two regular carriers were added two years ago. Since then, the Washington activities are informed, Santa Ana building permits have been issued for 356 single dwellings,

$10,000,000 AIR
CONCERN FORMED

NEW YORK, March 6.—(UP)—A $10,000,000 organization known as the New York Air Terminals, Inc., has been formed to build and operate the world's largest metropolitan air terminal in the Hackensack Meadows, adjoining Secaucus, N. J.

The site, nearly 1000 acres of which have been bought or taken under option, is three miles from the Pennsylvania station here.

Announcement of the plans was made by Hayden, Stone and company, leaders in formation of the air terminals corporation.

A pneumatic tube which would deliver air mail from the airport to the general post office here five minutes after it is landed will be installed in the Pennsylvania railroad tunnel under the Hudson river, which opens directly opposite the proposed flying field, according to tentative arrangements with the railroad.

State's Witnesses
May Be Barred In Judge Hardy Trial

SACRAMENTO, March 6.—(UP)—Statements of Mrs. Minnie Kennedy and other material witnesses in the Hardy impeachment case who are not now in California may be barred as testimony when the trial starts before the state senate on March 18.

Legal authorities here are doubtful whether the law permits the presentation of such depositions in the impeachment trial.

Faced with the possibility of losing much valuable evidence, the assembly impeachment managers are meeting today to seek changes in the senate trial rules. Because there has been no determination of whether the forthcoming trial is considered as a criminal or civil case, considerable confusion exists as to procedure.

Marriage Is Halted By Court Order

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—(UP)—James W. Bernard, 37, World war veteran, and the widow of the man he nursed for several years, Mrs. Minnie Frances Garnett, will not be married today as they had planned.

R. S. Garnett, of Willows, son of the woman, obtained a court order restraining issuance of a marriage license to the couple. Garnett charged his mother was "of unsound mind, addicted to excessive use of intoxicants and liable to become the prey of designing persons."

"I promised Mr. Garnett on his death bed that I would marry his wife," said Bernard. "I intend to fulfill that promise."

SAN JUAN JAIL TO BE OPENED
BY JERNIGAN

Supervisors Instruct Sheriff to Arrange to Keep Prisoners There

TRAFFIC violators arrested near San Juan Capistrano no longer will be given accommodations in the Orange county jail, it appears today following a conference between Sheriff Sam Jernigan and the board of supervisors. This does not mean that they will be released. In fact it means just the opposite.

Jernigan yesterday explained to the board that considerable expense to the county could be saved if a jail at San Juan Capistrano were repaired and prisoners kept there overnight instead of being brought to the county jail here.

It has been necessary in the past to bring them to Santa Ana and return them to San Juan Capistrano next day for their appearance in the justice court there, Jernigan pointed out.

The supervisors authorized Jernigan to have the necessary repairs made in the San Juan Capistrano jail. In the future traffic violators arrested in that vicinity will be detained there instead of being taken to the county jail in Santa Ana, thus saving transportation costs to the county. On the following morning they will be immediately available for appearance in the justice court.

NEW TRIAL SLATED FOR L. A. MINISTER

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—(UP)—With the jury discharged after nearly 30 hours of fruitless deliberation, a new trial date will be set today for the Rev. Robert P. Shuler, charged with criminally libeling the Knights of Columbus.

Judge Caryl M. Sheldon dismissed the jury of nine women and three men last night when the jurors admitted they were hopelessly deadlocked with the vote standing 10 to 2 for acquittal.

The pastor of the Methodist Trinity Episcopal church was charged with publishing a false Knights of Columbus oath in a magazine article on Al Smith during the presidential campaign.

13 Persons Die
When Avalanche

ERIVAN, Russia, March 6.—(UP)—Thirteen persons were killed and many injured in an avalanche in the Armenian village of Zangizur, advices received here today stated.

A number of houses were destroyed by the avalanche, which was reported due to heavy snowstorms in the region.

Farm Relief, Tariff To Be Settled Then

Commission to Investigate Prohibition to Be Named By Hoover Soon

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(UP)—President Hoover will call congress into extra session for farm relief and tariff revision between April 10 and 15, it was learned today at his conference with Republican Floor Leader Tilson of the house.

Tilson said he had recommended this time and that Hoover was agreeable to that arrangement.

Republican leaders, Tilson explained, will attempt to hold the session to farm relief and tariff revision as designed by Mr. Hoover. He said he expected the ways and means committee would be ready with the tariff bill by April 20.

Consideration of farm relief by the house should not take over 10 days, Tilson said.

The house agriculture committee, Tilson explained, will not hold extended hearings on farm relief.

"It is not necessary to go over the conditions of agriculture again in details as that has been done for many years," he said.

President Hoover discussed the Mexican situation and his law enforcement program in a general way today with Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, who called at the White House.

The Idaho senator who said he had called to congratulate the president upon his inaugural address, said Mr. Hoover had practically completed the personnel of his prohibition investigating commission and that he expected an announcement soon about the commission and when it will begin its work.

Former Secretary of Navy Wilbur, who called at the White House today, said he assumed his nomination for a judgeship in the ninth circuit court of appeals which was not acted upon at the last session would be sent up by President Hoover but said he had not discussed this matter with Mr. Hoover.

NORTHCOTT HANGING STAYED BY APPEAL

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—(UP)—The execution of Gordon Stewart Northcott, convicted murderer of three young boys, automatically has been held up by his action of filing an appeal to the death penalty. Under his sentence he was to have been hanged at San Quentin April 15.

His appeal, on file here today with the clerk of the state supreme court, was based on asserted technical errors at his trial in Riverside county.

He was found guilty of slaying Lewis and Nelson Winslow and an unidentified Mexican youth.

Coolidge Happy;
Doesn't Need To Arise At 8 A. M.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., March 6.—(UP)—Calvin Coolidge is happy to be freed from the heavy responsibilities of the presidency and return again to his old neighbors and friends here.

He feels the greatest thing about not being president is that he does not have to get up at 8 a. m. daily and read and dictate all day. He also appreciates that he need not make so many speeches.

Seated at a new maple desk in the law office of Coolidge and Hemenway, the former president gave his first newspaper interview since he left the White House Monday.

But force of his habit at Washington caused him to specify that he was not to be directly quoted.

Love Affair Just Joke--- Lita Chaplin

HOLLYWOOD, March 6.—(UP)—Lita Grey Chaplin, former wife of Charles Spencer Chaplin, screen comedian, said today her love affair with Roy D'Arcy, of the films, was "all off."

"I was just fooling when I said I was going to marry him," she reported. "I'm doing too well in vaudeville to try matrimony."

She said she intended to have her tonsils removed before she returned east to complete a stage tour interrupted when she became ill.

DAVID D. BUICK
DIES PENNILESS
DURING NIGHT

FOUNDER OF FAMOUS AUTOMOBILE CLINGS TO DREAM OF FORTUNE TO LAST

DETROIT, Mich., March 6.—(UP)—David D. Buick, 72, founder of the Buick automobile, died here last night, almost penniless at 72 years and clinging still to his dream of millions. He had been ill in a hospital for a month.

Cancer which had wasted his body for years was the direct cause of death, but broken hearted disappointment at the fate which left him poor weakened his resistance against the disease, according to hospital attaches.

Although he complained of his ill fortune until the last he never accused anyone of cheating him of his Buick interests, his physician, Dr. Clark D. Brooks, said today.

Buick sold his plumbing supply business here to obtain funds for manufacturing his automobile but after three years experiments was forced to seek outside aid. Finally in 1906 W. C. Durant organized a stock campaign which netted more than $1,000,000 new capital.

With this help, the new company prospered but its prosperity was disastrous to Buick.

STRESEMANN OPENS MINORITY BATTLE

GENEVA, March 6.—(UP)—Gustav Stresemann, foreign minister of Germany, opened his battle for protection of minorities of Europe in speech before the League of Nations council in session here today.

Stresemann demanded the creation of an international jurisprudence to afford "real protection" to the minorities, preventing any effort toward assimilation on the part of the state in which the minorities live.

Leaders Of Dry
Forces Agree To Hoover Program

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(UP)—Dry leaders made their first concession today in accordance with President Hoover's plans to enforce prohibition.

F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, and other dry leaders who called on the president today said they would not oppose Mr. Hoover's plan to transfer the enforcement machinery from the treasury to the justice department.

The dry forces heretofore have opposed such a shift in authority. McBride pointed out, however, that if the transfer were made the whole machinery instead of part of it would have to be changed.

The delegation represented 31 national prohibition and law enforcement organizations, indicated they would leave the program entirely in the hands of Mr. Hoover.

9 ARRESTED UP TO NOON BY DEPUTIES

Seventy to Ninety Raids to Be Made on Warrants in Hands of Authorities

TWENTY IN SANTA ANA
Raids to Be Staged This Evening and Probably Until Late Wednesday

BULLETIN
The county-wide liquor raid had netted a total of 22 prisoners at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Officers in the raiding party were sweeping south along the beach front and were not expected to come inland until late this afternoon. No Santa Anans had been arrested at that time.

A COUNTY-WIDE liquor raid, destined to wipe out the bootlegger in every city in Orange county and which is expected to result in the arrest of from 70 to 90 men and women within the next 24 hours, was launched by the district attorney and the sheriff this morning.

Sweeping like the tide on all of the cafes along the coast line from Seal Beach to San Juan Capistrano this afternoon are approximately a score of deputy sheriffs and district attorney's investigators, armed with search and arrest warrants.

At noon today nine persons had been arrested and are in the county jail charged with sale of liquor.

The raid is expected to consume all of this afternoon and will extend far into the night and maybe tomorrow, it was said.

Warrants have been issued on information obtained by six special investigators, hired by District Attorney Z. B. West Jr., and who have been in the county for the past three months, gathering their evidence. Whether liquor is found on many premises today or not, arrests will be made for asserted violations during the past several weeks and although no great quantity of liquor is expected to be captured today, the arrests should run well over the 50 mark by tomorrow, according to West.

Santa Ana is not to escape the drive. More than 20 persons are scheduled to be arrested here before night, and in order to hurry the drive, Chief of Police L. C. Rogers and his men are co-operating.

$2,000,000 Blaze

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—(UP)—Undismayed by a $2,000,000 fire which destroyed the complete display, the Los Angeles Automobile Dealers' association will reopen the annual automobile show in the Shrine auditorium tonight.

Every dealer who lost expensive exhibits in the fire which enveloped four tents, planned to have new cars on display tonight.

Meanwhile, firemen reached the conclusion that a cigaret dropped by a careless smoker had caused the fire which burned 400 automobiles in addition to several airplanes and motorboats.

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—(UP)—The probation hearing of Ben Getzoff, convicted of four former district attorney, on conspiracy to bribe charges, was continued today because of Getzoff's serious illness. bringing his 5,000 men into contact with government troops south of Monterey.

In the state of Sinaloa, General Francisco Manzo was thought to be near federal forces retreating south of San Blas.

The northern border states generally were in the hands of the rebels, with Lower California and Tamaulipas the only ones not claimed by the leaders of the uprising.

The action of General Marcelo Caraveo, governor of Chihuahua, in announcing his support of the rebel movement was hailed generally as an extremely damaging blow to the central government.

The revolutionary forces dispatched a unit of soldiers to reinforce the small garrison at Sasabe, Sonora, seventy-five miles west of Nogales, Ariz., on the international boundary. The town is a point of entry and is strategically located. It is believed a battle might take place there.

The Mexican consul at Tucson received an official notification that all ports into Sonora were closed and that all merchandise shipped into the state is sent at the risk of the shipper.

Runners and counter-runners, claims and counter-claims clouded the true situation in doubt today. The rebelling forces claim ten states now, against eleven they asserted had joined in the move yesterday, while the loyalists assert that actually only three or four states have revolted.

Gen. Borquez, who took over Nogales, Sonora, when Gen. Aguirre joined the pursuit of Gen. Carrillo, finally forced him to abandon his management although he retained a large block of stock. He moved to California where it seemed he would make a new fortune in oil lands. But again litigation arose. Legal expense had to be paid and he began to sell his Buick stock at $100 a share. Today it is worth more than $6000 a share.

When his oil venture collapsed David Buick was "broke" and without a share of the company he organized.

Florida was booming and the vision of another fortune spurred him to try his luck again. He became partner in a Florida land concern but it failed and two years ago he returned to Detroit.

"I went to my old friends many of them are millionaires now," Buick said recently, "but none of them had a job for me."

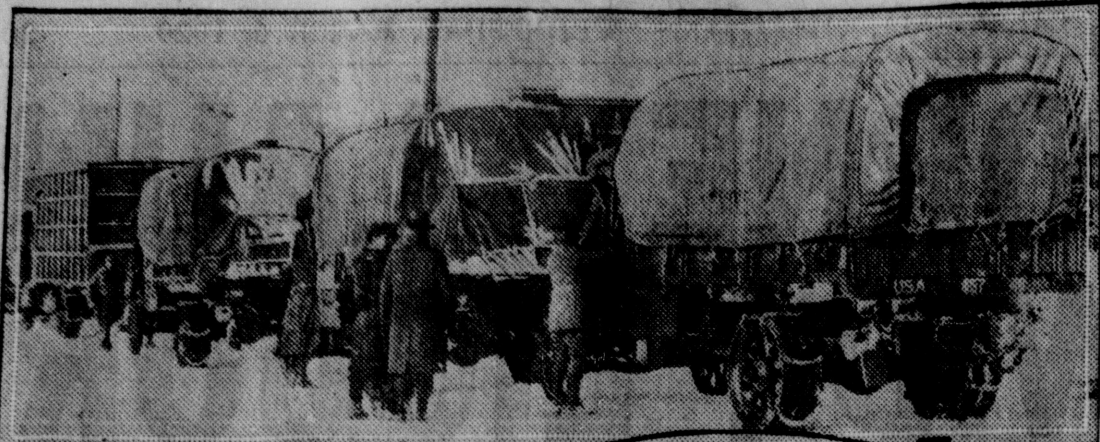

As a last resort he obtained a job as instructor in a trade school. As he grew more feeble he became too weak to teach and he was assigned to an information desk where he sat through the day, an emaciated bent little man peering through heavy glasses. Cars bearing his name flashed by him as he walked to his shabby flat each night.

Issued the claim that Lower California planned to join the revolt.

Two men were reported killed at Cananea, Sonora, south of Naco, Ariz., when the rebels captured that town, but the men were bystanders and no battle took place when the town surrendered, it was said.

deputy sheriff, has charge of the sheriff's forces in the drive and Bob Sandon, investigator for the district attorney's office, is in charge of six men from that office, besides the men used secretly here during the past several months.

The drive is the outcome of a survey of the county made with the approval of the board of supervisors several weeks ago. West said today. Three months ago, there were numerous complaints made to the district attorney and sheriff that liquor laws were being violated. The survey and the issuance of the warrants following the gathering of the evidence was the result.

Most of the complaints received referred to cafe and restaurants throughout the county, particularly along the ocean front. These were being "knocked over" in rapid order today and of the nine persons lodged in jail before noon today six were restaurant or cafe owners.

"We are particularly after the restaurant and cafe owner who has been selling liquor," West declared. "We had information, and reliable too, that high school kids were able to buy liquor at a number of places and because of this, the drive was instigated," he said.

West also declared that in handling the recent Bob Turner case, in which several Santa Ana girls appeared prominently, it was learned that there were a number of places along the beach front that needed "cleaning up." This case pointed the way to the liquor raid also, he said.

One woman was among the persons arrested this morning in the drive. She is Mrs. Dorothy F. Mahon, 32, cafe owner of Sunset Beach, who is in jail, charged with sale of liquor.

Mrs. Mahon is the widow of Orville Mahon, duck hunter, who was shot and killed several months ago by J. W. Montgomery, special officer, at the California Gun club, when Montgomery asserted he found Mahon and J. D. Callicott, whom he also killed, poaching on the property. Montgomery was found guilty on a manslaughter charge.

Others arrested this morning were: W. P. Snyder, 59 painter, of Sunset Beach; Frank Higley 47, cafe owner, of Seal Beach; Jim Doyle, 73, carpenter, of Seal Beach; George Gleason, 44, Sunset Beach Cafe, Sunset Beach; Sherman Morris, 54, cafe owner; Jimmy Burns, 47, cafe owner, Sunset Beach; Carter Dean, 20, Sunset Beach service station proprietor, and James I. Garrett, 41, Huntington Beach, oil worker.

Garrett recently beat a liquor charge against him in the court here. He was the first man arrested in the cleanup.

Missing Scion Of Rich Family Ocean Victim, Is Belief

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—(UP)—Belief that Henry R. Cooke, scion of one of Honolulu's wealthiest families, is dead, grew today despite a report the young man had been seen alive last Saturday night.

Cooke has been missing since February 23, when he sailed from Los Angeles for this city aboard the coastal liner Yale.

A former woman acquaintance of the youth told police she had seen him alive on a downtown street Saturday, but widespread search has failed to reveal trace.

Cooke was not seen to disembark from the liner here, and police believe he either fell or leaped overboard during the journey from Los Angeles.

EXTENSION OF MAIL DELIVERY SERVICE ASKED

13 duplexes and 26 flats and courts with from four to 12 apartments. These figures do not include construction in areas outside the city limits.

The postmaster stated that city delivery service is not confined to city limits. In fact, city carriers already deliver as far south as Delhi road on two streets. In the position for extensions, fifteen blocks outside the city limits are included.

Stephenson stated that the rules require four things for extension: sidewalks, house numbers, streets posted at the corners and that property shall be fifty per cent built up. Cross-over streets for the convenience of delivery. Fairlawn between Fifth and Eighth streets fulfills all the requirements excepting that of sidewalks. That street will be given service when that requirement is fulfilled.

Streets to which delivery will be extended if the Santa Ana petition is granted include the following: Broadway from Santa Clara to Caroline; Baker, Eighth to Seventeenth; parts of West Washington, Bristol, Louise and West Seventh; parts of West Ninth, West Eighth and West Seventh and adjoining blocks in the Bristol, Pacific and Artesia streets section; Daisy; West Fifth from Fairlawn to English; West Pine at Artesia; bits of Artesia and Franklin at Pine; Fairview near Shelton; Shelton, from Wilshire to Highland; Parton and Birch from Fairview to Wilshire; part of Garmany near Fairview; Oak, Kilton, Hickory, Halliday, Cedar, Evergreen, near St. Gertrude's place.

The three-trip delivery area, if extended, will include West Fourth street from Rose to Olive, East Fourth street to the packing houses on the Santa Fe, Third from Broadway to Ross, and Broadway north to Church.

Santa Ana post office at this time has twenty-three carriers and five substitutes. When Stephenson became postmaster five years ago the office had 13 carriers.

United States Government Inspection

It is easy to identify meat products that have been U. S. Government inspected and passed. The United States Government uses on all fresh meat, that is beef, lamb, veal and pork, a round stamp imprinted with purple vegetable ink. This ink is supplied by the United States Government itself and is absolutely harmless.

Other products, such as hams and bacon, show very plainly thereon the words "U. S. Government Inspected and Passed," with the establishment number. Products in packages and containers show the same legend.

All meat products sold in Orange County must be inspected; that may mean City, County or State, and does not require, therefore, that they must be U. S. Government inspected, consequently meat products advertised as GOVERNMENT Inspected are not necessarily U. S. Government Inspected.

Seidel's Markets handle United States Government Inspected meats only.

Considered a Delicacy Only
Rich Could Afford

A well-known food authority recently pointed out that sugar was considered "an exotic tropical luxury." As a luxury, sugar was subject to taxation on the theory that it would be used by the wealthy classes that could afford to be taxed.

Sugar is now so cheap in price, the food authority went on to show, that it is used by everyone. As a matter of fact, as another scientist recently pointed out, there is now no fuel for the human body as cheap as sugar. "Sugar is one of the cleanest, purest, most wholesome foods," he said. "There is nothing that gives nutrition so cheaply."

The ideal way to use sugar is as a flavorer of all those varied, healthful foods we should eat in order to be strong and well. All children and adults should drink milk each day, and a little sugar and flavoring can be used to make delicious milk-shakes. Modern health authorities affirm that all of us should eat abundant fruits and vegetables, fresh and canned, raw and cooked. It is inadvisable to try to force the members of your family to eat fruits, vegetables and meats unenjoyably prepared.

Sweetening is the key-note of delicious, healthful cookery, and don't forget the satisfaction value of desserts, such as cakes, cookies and ice creams. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.

A WORD OF COMFORT
The only force in the world which can make you gentle and kind and self-controlled, and keep you so, is the love of God. The experiences which distract and overwhelm you are too great and overwhelming to be faced in your own strength without the vision and the endurance which God alone can give.
Apart from Him you become harsh, cynical, unstable and fatalistic. With Him you grow gradually stronger, more considerate and more hopeful for others as well as for yourself. Give Him His way with you and you will be able to triumph over all that would fetter you.

PLUMER—March 5, at her home at Newport Heights, Mary E. Plumer, 60 years old. Announcement of services will be made later by the Win-bler Mission Funeral Home. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. J. E. Hooker and one daughter, Miss Alice C. Plumer, both of Newport Heights.

HESS—March 5, 1929, Mrs. Jennie Hess, aged 60 years. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 o'clock at the Harrell and Brown Funeral home, 116 West Seventeenth street, in charge of the Rev. O. V. Long, of the Church of the Brethren. Interment in Central Memorial Park.

RANSOM REID PROPERTY SOLD TO MITCHELLS

The sale today by Ransom Reid and his wife, Mrs. Eunice Reid, to Ralph and W. F. Mitchell, sons of W. T. Mitchell, superintendent of the Irvine ranch, of the 36-acre walnut grove at the southwest corner of McPadden and Tustin avenues, was announced by Walter S. Tubach and Walter A. Cook, real estate dealers who negotiated the transaction. The consideration was reported at $20,000.
Approximately six acres are occupied by walnut trees at least 40 years old and the remaining acreage is in trees 15 years of age.
The new owners took possession today, according to Tubach, although it is possible that it will take 15 days to complete papers necessary for the transfer of title. It was said that no exchange of property was involved and that the greater portion of the purchase price was paid in cash.
With the transfer of this piece of property title will pass to land that has been a family possession for 59 years. It originally was purchased by Finas Ritchie, grandfather of Mrs. Reid, in 1870, and is part of a tract of 300 to 400 acres brought at that time.
Reid for many years was superintendent of the Santa Ana water department, and he and his family now are living on an orange ranch in Orange.
Tubach and Cook, who recently started operations here, report this as their first deal since establishing themselves in the real estate business here.

DISPUTE OVER BOUNDARY LINE GOES TO COURT

A party of attorneys and their clients today took to the hills and left the courtroom behind them temporarily in their attempt to settle a boundary dispute involving two pieces of property in Villa Park, one of which is valued at $170,000.
Although they opened their negotiations in the courtroom early today, the group decided to continue them on the property in an attempt to settle the matter without formal legal proceedings. The controversy is based on an attempt to reform a deed to the property alleged to have been purchased from the Jotham Bixby company and now owned by F. E. Farnsworth Luella M. Farnsworth and Mary I. Thomson.
According to the owners, who are plaintiffs in the case, there was a mutual mistake in the deed, whereby a strip of land 30 feet wide was reserved for road purposes on the south boundary. The complaint stated that this reservation should have been replaced by one which stated that "all roads around the property under construction or otherwise are to be left open for public use; also a road now in use just west of the farm buildings; also a road connecting the roads on the north and south of the property, being near the east end of the property." The plaintiffs paid $170,000 for the 136-acre ranch, the complaint said.

The complaint stated that the defendant company had notified the plaintiffs one year ago that it intended to move its fences onto "the plaintiffs' property" and planned to establish a 30-foot roadway. The plaintiffs are represented by Rutan and Mize, Santa Ana attorneys and by C. D. Swanner, also of Santa Ana. G. M. Spicer, Long Beach, represents the defendants.

CEYLON'S GOLF COURSE CALLED BEST IN WORLD

Golf enthusiasts in Santa Ana learned today of the discovery of one of the finest golf courses in the world—in Ceylon. According to information received here from Charles F. Hell, prominent business man and rancher, who is circling the globe, he discovered the course at Newara Eliya, in Ceylon, while he was visiting there.

After spending several weeks in Ceylon and playing on the "world's finest course," Hell left for India. But he soon was back in Ceylon again, lured by the climate, scenery and the golf course. He has been able to play at several of the ports he has visited, but the most attractive course was the one he discovered in Ceylon.

Hell left Santa Ana early last fall and, after touching at Hawaii, went on to the Orient, where he toured Japan, and parts of China with a party of three Oregon bankers whom he had met on the Age alone does not make a successful business, though it is rare, in the United States, to find any business surviving a half century or more; so we feel it is cause for pride and gratitude to be able to call the public's attention to the long life and honorable traditions of our business.

However, this is no indication that we are living in the past, nor allowing the success of bygone years to blind our eyes to the rapidly changing world in which we live. It is our constant endeavor to keep our business strictly up to date, and each year we make additions of new machinery and equipment to the end that the best workmanship and service humanly possible will constantly be available both in a manufacturing and merchandising way.

A few hardy pioneers who began business with this lumber yard in the first days of its existence back in 1878 are still customers, and purchase all their requirements in our line from us.

Beginning our 52nd year coincident and contemporary with the beginning of the reign of the first Californian in the White House, a man conceded to be phenomenally well-equipped for the high office of President of the United States, we are trusting that our success and the prosperity of this community may be in proportion to the success anticipated for Herbert Hoover, the great Californian, in the high office to which he has been called.

With due appreciation for all the consideration shown us in the past and with a firm determination to merit the confidence and a fair proportion of the patronage in the communities in which we operate, we are,

Sincerely and gratefully yours,

It was following the Hongkong stop that Hell went to Singapore and Ceylon. He expects to be in Rome on May 1. PIG CONTEST OF 4-CLUB WILL OPEN MARCH 16

Fifteen Orange county 4-H agricultural club members today are preparing to launch their annual pig raising contest on March 16 following a meeting last night, in the farm advisor's offices here. The contest will last for 90 days.

At last night's session W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, outlined the situation in respect to prices, preparations, early care, feeding and objectives. Cory then answered questions put by the boys. Dr. C. E. Price, Santa Ana, explained diseases of pigs and their treatment.

During the 90-day period the boys will attempt to bring the weight of their pigs to between 160 and 190 pounds, the most desirable condition for marketing. Duroc-Jerseys, Berkshires and Chester White pigs are the three types to be raised this year, according to E. E. Eastman, assistant farm advisor and director of the club work.

Last year Wilson Seacord, Tustin, and Marvin Hackett, Costa Mesa, raised pigs which won in the junior and open competition at the Orange County fair.

The Public Forum

Communications under this heading must be signed by the name of the writer. These communications express the opinions of the writers of them. The opinions may or may not be the opinions of The Register.

Santa Ana, Calif., March 5, 1929.

Editor Register: In a recent number of The Register there appeared a photograph of the sacred black lily of India and a statement to the effect that it took the florists of Chicago eight years to make it bloom.

Sometimes I feel sorry for the people of Chicago and the east when they must wait eight years for a bloom from such a rare plant.

Two years ago a friend traveling in the east found this black lily there and brought home a bulb. This year in my garden on Oakmont avenue, Santa Ana, a bulb from this original produced a beautiful blossom, the pistil about ten inches long and jet black, the rest of the blossom was a very dark wine color. Moreover, from this original bulb I have other plants growing which give promise of blooming. After all, California is the place to grow flowers, rare or otherwise.

Yours very truly,
MRS. G. S. RICHARDSON.

CONFER WITH RAIL HEADS ON SUBWAY PLANS

Col. S. H. Finley, Clyde Jenken, George Wells and George Raymer were in conference in Los Angeles this afternoon with Tom Conaway, Santa Fe Railway company official, with reference to plans for the subway to be built on East Fourth street under the tracks of the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe. A similar conference will be held later with the officials of the Southern Pacific.

It was pointed out that the city soon will file an application with the railroad commission to make the improvement here. It is the desire of the Santa Ana men to have the railway officials co-operate so there will be no unnecessary delay in getting action on the application.

Opposition by the railroads, it was said, might keep the application before the commission for an indefinite time.

Registration For Musical, Dancing Courses Is Opened

In presenting their plan for free lessons in music or dancing and the allied art of dramatic expression, the Santa Ana Academy of Music and the Putnam School of Dancing have been proffered the aid of the Foster-Barker Music company as a place where prospective pupils may register for the course tonight and tomorrow.

Those who avail themselves of this opportunity for a course of eight free lessons with no expense entailed beyond a small registration fee will take their lessons at the academy of music or the dancing school.

The work is under the auspices of the League for the Promotion of Music, co-operating with the two schools and aided by the music store to the extent of opening its rooms for registration on the two dates.

It is hoped by this means, to discover latent talent among children of the city.

Three Well Known Poets Reviewed at Meeting Of Poetry Section

George T. Calhoun Is Complimented on Birth Date

George T. Calhoun little suspected that the anniversary of his birthday would be the incentive for a pretty party so he was completely surprised last night when a group of friends gathered at his home on Kilson drive in honor of the occasion.

The merry affair had been planned by Mrs. Calhoun and Mr. Calhoun's sister, Mrs. Earl Bower and the two had arranged that five hundred should be played during the evening. When scores were added Mrs. Harry F. Coleman and Glenford Griffin were high and Mr. and Mrs. William Pagenkopp were low. Each one received an attractive gift.

A dainty supper was served at midnight at tables gay with the shamrock and other emblems of St. Patrick's day.

Those who enjoyed the party with Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun and Mr. and Mrs. Bower were Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. Glenford Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. William Pagenkopp, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Coleman.

May, when Miss May and Miss Luvicy Carter were hostesses.

This feeling for the unfortunate class is the only thing that the poetry of the two men has in common, according to the reviewers who described the styles used by the two men.

Mrs. Thatcher also devoted a short time to a discussion of the poetry of Jean Starr Untermyer that is supposed to be of more lasting quality than that of her husband.

Announcement was made of the that is to take place at the home next meeting of the poetry section of Miss Lucy Agar, 323 South Garnsey street, April 2, when Mrs. C. F. Jackson will talk on Margaret Widdemer and Miss Luvicy Carter will review Thomas Hardy's latest book of poetry.

Colonial Party Proves Charming Affair of O. E. S. Circles

Quite the loveliest of a succession of annual colonial parties, was that given Monday night in Masonic temple in conjunction with the first March meeting of Hermosa chapter, O. E. S. Led by their worthy matron and patron, Mrs. Charles Mitchell and Alvin Nowotney, officers and members of the chapter appeared in the garb of one of our country's most colorful periods, the days of George Washington, and Martha, his wife.

During the business meeting special escort duty was required to welcome visiting matrons and patrons, who included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wright, Santa Ana chapter; Mrs. Harry Kelly, Anaheim chapter, and Mrs. Ben Day and Dick Haster, Garden Grove chapter. Guests from her jurisdictions were also greeted, including Mrs. Hayden, a past worthy matron of Colorado.

Miss Olive Gilbert had planned a most enjoyable program opened by two baritone solos by young Mario Mercurio, whose richly beautiful voice was heard in "Roses of Picardy" and "O Sole Mio." Miss Gilbert was his accompanist, but for the remaining musical and dance numbers of the evening, Miss Mayne Havens, the chapter musician, was at the piano.

Miss Gertrude Stebbins presented a group of her young dance pupils from this city and Long Beach, in a variety of graceful numbers. Virginia Lee gave a pretty "Gypsy Dance" in costume, while little Betty Ellen Mitchell, a niece of the worthy matron, won all hearts with her "Doll dance" and its accompanying recitation, Teresa and Genevieve Hammond did the exacting "Tumbler's dance" followed by "Hat Box dance" presented by Beverly Weindorf, Master Billy Hammond, 8 years old, and his sister Genevieve, 5, then presented an adagio dance. Ruth Summons did an acrobatic number, and the program closed with a minut rendered by Miss Alice Pannell and Mesdames Hazel Dane, Nella Neighbor, Lois Osterman, Pearl Livesey, Harriett Nelson, Helen Lurker, Almee Crawford, Ella Nowotney, Lucy Burns, Marie Patterson and Lenna West.

At its conclusion, Mrs. Neal Beisel, associate matron, entered the room accompanied by little Betty Ellen Mitchell and Teresa Hammond, miniature "Colonial Dames," and paused before Alvin Nowotney, worthy patron. He soon discovered that his birthday had been remembered with the gift of a handsome desk light and pen set from his official family, while to Mrs. Nowotney was presented a basket of sweet peas.

A vase in Weller ware was presented Miss Stebbins, while boxes of chocolates were given each youthful artist on the program. The remainder of the evening was spent in the banquet room where tables arranged in a triangle, surrounded a small table with a birthday cake baked by Mrs. Lois Osterman. Garlands of ferns and sweet peas swung from ceiling to tables.

Host duties were accomplished by a bevy of correctly clad members of the chapter including Mrs. H. T. Truchlood, chairman of the refreshment committee, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Clevenger, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Whitson, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Tarpley, Mrs. Lena Hewitt, Mrs. Arthur Pease and Mrs. W. L. Dugan.

Tires for the new Ford are specially made to give long wear

WHEN the new Ford was designed, it was immediately apparent that a new tire would have to be made to match the car's performance. It was distinctly a new problem, for here was a car with quicker acceleration, greater speed and more braking efficiency than any car of similar size or weight.

So that every Ford owner might be assured of maximum tire mileage at the lowest cost, the Ford Motor Company devoted many months to research and experiment in conjunction with the leading tire manufacturers.

As a result, certain definite specifications were developed for tires for the new Ford. These specify cords of certain strength and texture, a large volume of tread and side-wall rubber, sturdy non-skid design, and reinforced plies for protection against bruise breaks—all the strong features of construction formerly considered for only the largest tires.

Great care also was taken to secure the best riding qualities in connection with the transverse springs and Hondaile shock absorbers used on the new Ford.

Though the Ford tires are 30 x 4.50 in size, they have the resiliency and air space of much larger tires because of the drop center rim of the steel spoke wheels.

Another unusual feature of the new Ford tires is the provision for balancing the tire assembly. Every tire is marked on the sidewall with a red spot to show where the valve stem should be when the tube is inserted. This is just a little thing, but it assures a uniformly high standard of tire performance at all speeds.

For best results, the tires on the new Ford should be kept inflated to an air pressure of 35 pounds and checked regularly to insure this pressure all the time. This is important. Low inflation breaks down the side-walls of a tire. By causing overheating, it also destroys the rubber that acts as an insulation, with consequent separation of the cord.

At the end of each 5000 miles, when you have the front wheels packed with grease, it is a good plan to have the wheel alignment checked. This will prevent the possibility of premature wear of the tires.

When punctures come, as they will with any tire, you will find the Ford dealer particularly well-equipped to make repairs quickly and at small cost. See him, too, for replacements. Then you will be sure of getting tires built specially for the Ford car according to definite Ford specifications.

STEPS IN MAKING PROPELLER

Young Flying Enthusiasts Told How to Build Propellers

The glider is an airplane that coasts through the air, gliding forward as it drops to the ground.

A motored airplane is simply a glider that carries its own motive power. The propeller, mounted either on the nose or at the tail, pulls or pushes it through the air, working on the same principle that makes a screw go through wood.

The maker of model airplanes will find the propeller one of the most important parts of his machine. Many a well-built model fails to fly because its propeller is improperly made. Yet the propeller is not hard to make if care is taken and instructions are followed closely.

Make your propeller of the lightest wood obtainable. Balsa wood is the best, because it is extremely light and can be carved more easily than any other wood. If it is not obtainable, however, pine or spruce will do. Get an oblong piece of wood which is as long as you intend your propeller to be. It should be stated here that the size of the propeller depends on the size of the plane; for a small model five inches is a good length for the propeller; for larger models the length of the propeller may be 10 or 12 inches.

We will assume that you are making a propeller for a plane 36 inches long. Your propeller, then, should be 10 inches long, seven-eighths of an inch wide and five-eighths of an inch thick.

First draw one blade of the propeller on a piece of thin paper, following the shape shown in figure one. Then lay this aside and take your block of wood, cut down to the dimensions given in the paragraph above. Draw the two lines AB and CD on it, straight through the middle lengthwise and crosswise as shown in figure two. This gives you the exact center of the piece of wood.

Then lay the blade you drew on paper on the wood, putting the center of the hub right over the place where the lines AB and CD cross. Stick a pin through the paper at that point, and trace the outline of the blade onto the wood, making a mark at the point where the tip of the blade hits the line CD, as shown in figure three. This done, swing the blade around so that this mark hits the line at the other end of the wood, and trace it again. You now have your propeller completely outlined.

If you have a jig-saw, use it to cut the outlined propeller out; if not, a jack knife will do very well. When you have the propeller cut out, as shown in figure four, you are ready to start shaping it.

Begin with the curved edge, as shown in figure five. Leave the straight edge high, and cut down to the bottom of the curved edge. This will give your propeller the appearance as shown in figure six. The face of the blade should be slightly convex, or hollow. Then do the same thing to the other blade, as shown in figure seven.

Now you are ready to trim the lower side of the propeller. This must be done carefully; you must get the blade as thin as possible, but be careful not to cut clear through. When you are all through, the propeller will look like figure eight.

Now make the hole for the shaft. Bore this in the center of the hub. If you are using balsa wood you will find you can push an ordinary pin right through; with pine or spruce you will probably have to use a very fine drill. Be sure to get the hole perfectly straight. When it has been made, put a pin through and balance the propeller. If one blade is heavier than the other, shave it down so that the propeller balances perfectly. This is highly important, as the plane will not fly properly unless both blades are identical in weight. It is best to sandpaper the propeller thoroughly after you have finished it. You can also cut the

TRACT GIVEN APPROVAL BY CITY COUNCIL

FULLERTON, March 6.—A proposed subdivision in the northwest part of Fullerton to be placed on the market soon by O. M. Thompson was approved by the city council last night.

The subdivision is bounded by North Woods avenue, North Grand View avenue and Ocean View drive and is made up of five acres and will be divided into 28 lots. The plat was approved by the city planning commission recently. The city engineer was authorized to make a few alterations and submit the map to Thompson.

Ordinance 387 dealing with licenses of auctioneers and bowling alleys passed its second reading last night.

With action taken by the council last night, "U" turns on Spadra road at the intersections of Santa Fe, Commonwealth, Amerige, Wilshire, Whiting and Chapman avenues will be prohibited in the future. Councilman O. A. Keighbaum submitted the proposition to the council following the recommendations of Chief of Police J.

Figure nine shows how the propeller is mounted on the plane. This part of the job will be described in detail in the next article; you had better save this picture for guidance later on.

M. Pearson. The Daughters of Veterans of Fullerton were granted permission to place three memorial trees in Hillcrest park in memory of comrades of the Civil war.

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company was given permission to place an underground conduit on Spadra road between Truistlow avenue and the city limits.

Water Superintendent William Gillette will attend the California Sewage Works association meeting at Fresno March 20 and 21, following permission from the council.

"Nothing stirs the heart like soft, smooth skin," say 39 leading

motion picture directors

A GIRL with lovely skin, petal-smooth, has a delightful sense of confidence. She knows that she wins hearts wherever she goes.

Hollywood has found that it is only the girl with exquisite skin whose charm really wins and holds the great public.

As Lewis Milestone, Paramount director, puts it: "Smooth, exquisite skin is more captivating than anything else about a girl. A screen star especially must have perfect skin—for the cleverest make-up can't fake it under the fierce lights of the close-up."

"The girls who have achieved stardom," he goes on to say, "though they differ widely in type, all have this essential beauty of marvelous skin."

Lux Toilet Soap

When the popular close-up is being taken, the glare from the new incandescent "sun-spot" lights streams down on the screen star, and any defect in her skin would inevitably be registered on the highly sensitized film.

This is why, of the 451 important Hollywood actresses, including all stars, 442 are devoted to Lux Toilet Soap. They have found that this delicately fragrant white soap gives their skin the satin-smoothness necessary for the close-up.

In fact, so delighted are they with this soap that it has been made the official soap in the dressing rooms of all the great film studios.

You will be charmed with Lux Toilet Soap, too. Try it—today. Remember: nine out of ten screen stars use it for smooth skin.

She is one of the 442 important screen actresses who use Lux Toilet Soap to keep their skin lovely and smooth. She says: "The charm of a perfect skin is a social asset to any woman, but for a star it is a business necessity, too! That's why so many stars guard the smoothness of their skin with Lux Toilet Soap—it certainly keeps 'studio skin' in perfect condition."

BETTY BRONSON, Warner Brothers' star, says: "A star must have smooth skin—'studio skin'. I find Lux Toilet Soap wonderful for my skin."

MARIE PREVOST says: "A soap as delightful as the fine soaps of Paris is a joy. Lux Toilet Soap gives my skin a delightful satiny-smoothness."

NEWS OF LOCAL SCHOOLS

JULIA LATHROP

Last week Lathrop was the scene of a well organized fire drill. The fire committee under the direction of Miss Young had prepared for this first drill by explaining to each class the rules for the drill and by practicing the classes individually so that when the unexpected fire bell rang each student knew his place and his job. The entire building was emptied in 52 seconds. For a first drill this is a splendid record. We are proud of our efficient fire committee which includes Albert Manning, fire chief; Richard White, Wynan Lemon, Emmet Elliott, Walter Wilson, Julian Brown, George Kester, Harry Nietro, Bob Brown, Frank Lonsdown, Jack Preston, Don Pares, Karl Kendall, Gale Harley, Royal Gammel, Robert Boyle, Clifford Baxter, Lucian Wilson, Emil Myrehan and Charles Crumley.

Dinner Party
The low eight English class under Mrs. Wolff has been studying the story of the Donner party and the coming of the gold seekers to California. As a result, considerable interest has been aroused over relics of frontier times. One of the students, Billy Estes, brought an old candle mold and explained how candles were made in early days.

The high eight English class is making attractive travel booklets as a result of study of the section, "Communicating and Travel."

ing," in the textbook, "Reading and Living."

General language classes have increased greatly this semester. At present there are three high eighth classes and two low eighth classes and taking this course. The low eighth classes are studying German while the high eighth classes are studying French or Spanish.

Miss Leila Thrasher's H9 Citizenship club has recently elected new officers for the semester. These students include Olive Hatch, Beulah York, Aleo Morris, James Mathews, and Virginia Gabriel. This club was responsible for an interesting contribution to the latest student body assembly which was in honor of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. At the end of the program a copy of the original seal of California was presented to the school.

The Lathrop girl scouts held a picnic at Newport Beach recently. The members of the group, which included Dorothy Benner, Lucile Cook, Dorothy Gowdy, Dorothy Garver, Dorothy Hill, Audrey Hopkins, Doris Hossfield, Marjorie Johnson, Irene Lundak, Ruth Potts, Virginia Ramsdale, Florence Sutherland and Vivian White were chaperoned by Mrs. Cooke and their captain, Miss Graham.

Special Ball
Girls' P. E. classes have been playing Speed Ball during the past week. Teams will be chosen in the next two weeks and players who make the first team will be given 100 points towards an honor emblem.

Miss Graham, of the Lathrop English department attended a dinner given in honor of Mr. Vierling Kersey, state superintendent of education.

Reports from the office are that Julia Lathrop has enrollment of 735 students.

Thirty-one members of the scholarship club enjoyed a trip to the Mission Play on February 27. The trip was made in private cars and was arranged by Miss Hazel Thrasher who has charge of the scholarship society at Lathrop.

—Evelyn Dennie.

FRANCES WILLARD

Mary Tuthill's birthday was the occasion of a delightful surprise when the Willard Welfare club met during lunch hour Wednesday.

Following the luncheon and business meeting over which Marion Brownridge presided, a member of the group announced that it was Mary's birthday and a beautifully decorated birthday cake containing lighted candles was brought to the table. Mrs. R. G. Tuthill had sent the lovely cake to the Service club for the happy occasion. All of the girls extended their heartfelt wishes to Mary for many more happy returns of the day.

Library Club
The Library club has been very active since the reorganization at the beginning of the semester. Several new members have been added to the roll. Mrs. Esther Oliver, school librarian, is the club sponsor.

Members have been working hard to make pamphlets out of some old National Geographic magazines for Mr. Kellogg. The members have also been learning about library arrangement by shelving the books and magazines, mounting pictures, mending books, and doing many odd jobs which occur in all libraries. The officers include: President, Carmela Italiano; vice president, Lila De Loge; secretary and reporter, Virginia Paul.

—Virginia Paul.

Philatelist

The Philatelist and Numismatic club has its first meeting of the semester, during which time Will S. Kellogg, sponsor, read the constitution of the club as it was drawn up last semester when the club was first organized. The club then elected officers as follows: President, Elmer Clem; vice president, Harold Youel; secretary-treasurer, Floyd Montgomery; reporter, Albert Hill.

—Albert Hill.

Needlecraft Club

The Needlecraft club under the direction of Miss Tessie Childers, elected officers at their last meeting. The officers were: President, Alma Garthe; vice president, Barbara Dunton; secretary-treasurer, Frances Tibbetts.

Chef Club

The Chef club is making rapid progress under the supervision of Miss Lillian Fitz. Members already have learned how to make biscuits and cinnamon rolls and are now looking forward to the first warm day, as Miss Fitz has promised them that they may make sherbet. The girls' basketball team has played two games this week. On Tuesday afternoon, a return game was played with McKinley, and this time, Artesia won with a score of 12 to 10. Playing on Spurgeon's grounds, the girls were victorious again on Thursday. The concluding game of our league—a return match with Spurgeon—will be played some day next week.

Demonstration

On Thursday afternoon, Miss Wherry gave a writing lesson demonstration and Artesia school was fortunate in having one of the primary teachers, Mrs. Emma Dietrich, chosen as one of three from the city teachers to present her class in their writing work. The group, which was selected from the 2B class, included Enidena Espinoza, Louise Estrada, Jimmie Gonzales, Minnie Hernandez, Jessie Loya, Marcus Lopez, Pablo Gonzales, Julian Salazar, and Richard Segovia.

Fullerton City Council Calls Special Bond Election

BRIDGE, LAND FOR AIRPORT GO ON BALLOT

FULLERTON, March 6.—Plans which will lead to improvement work in Fullerton totaling more than $100,000 were being considered today following the action taken by the city council at the regular semi-monthly meeting last night.

Resolutions were adopted which place on the ballot at a special bond election two propositions, one for the purchase of 26 acres for the Fullerton municipal airport and the other for the construction of a bridge.

The 26 acres will cost $20,000 and if carried at the election will increase the acreage of the airport to 60 acres which will give it a Class "A" rating by the government. The acreage is the same which was purchased by the city a year ago but which contract was declared void by the superior court following a suit filed by T. P. Aten of Fullerton in which it was shown that it was illegal for the city to purchase the property without sufficient funds in the treasury.

The proposed bridge will cost approximately $8000. It would include the construction across the baranca on North Malden avenue. A petition signed by 58 property owners in the district was submitted to the council. The petition was approved and the attorney, F. H. Lyons, was authorized to prepare a resolution to place the measure on the ballot. The citizens of Fullerton defeated this particular bridge project two years ago, when the Richman avenue and Brea bridges were passed.

A petition signed by 11 property owners on North Roosevelt avenue asking for paving was referred by the council to Engineer C. M. Thorpe to check up on the frontage as signed on the petition. The paving would cover two blocks from Commonwealth avenue to Wilshire avenue, the cost being approximately $3000.

Several estimates of paving projects which were asked for by the council two weeks ago were submitted at last night's meeting by City Engineer Thorpe. The recommendations were referred to committees for further consideration.

The cost of widening North Spadra road from Chapman avenue to the Pacific Electric bridge from 36 feet to 56 feet would be $24,592.52, according to Thorpe. This would include paving costs, construction of new curbs, setting back of 31 ornamental light poles and other costs. The figures given by Thorpe did not include right-of-way costs.

The cost of widening North Spadra road from the Pacific Electric bridge to the city limits, a distance of two miles, from 20 feet, the present width, to 32 feet would total about $21,374.80.

The cost of paving the extension of North Harvard avenue from Skyline park to the Brea road would amount to $10,765.49, which would include curbs, paving, drainage and engineering work.

Reports were submitted to the chamber of commerce, which is planning to work on ways to secure a right-of-way for the distance from Chapman avenue to the Pacific Electric bridge.

9000 Sacks Of Cement For Oil Tank

BREA, March 6.—Nine thousand sacks of cement are being hauled by a local trucking company to the Stewart station location of the Union Oil company. The cement will be used in repairing reservoir No. 12, one of the huge reservoirs damaged in the fire of three years ago.

SEWER SYSTEM AUTHORIZED BY ORANGE BOARD

ORANGE, March 6.—A resolution calling for plans, specifications and profiles for the construction of a sewer on North Pine, North Harwood, North Cambridge and East Walnut streets was adopted at the regular meeting of the city council yesterday. The plans call for about 1600 feet of vitrified sewer mains, three man holes, three flush tanks and the moving of the present flush tank 164.5 feet north. A resolution of intention was passed for creating a sewer district.

The cost of the sewer was placed by C. C. Bonebrake, city engineer, at about $1500. It is planned to issue sewer bonds for a five-year term.

The first reading of ordinance No. 346 was heard. This ordinance authorizes the city to take steps to open West Almond street from Main street to Batavia and including a strip about 660 feet wide.

W. J. Rice, 327 West Chapman street, asked permission to paint the curb in front of his place of business red to prevent parking. The request was denied.

Permission to erect an oil station at Palmyra and Main street by amending ordinance 219, a zoning ordinance, was denied. Property at this point is owned by Donald Clark.

Paul Muench appeared before the council asking that the storing of gasoline in larger quantities in the city than 50 gallons be investigated.

Permission to open a grocery at 435 North Cypress was granted on the presentation of a petition signed by 25 property owners of this district.

A communication was received from Mrs. Della Clayton protesting the marking of any tree in the plaza in memory of anyone.

A. L. Brock, county horticultural commissioner, asked for the removal of a row of pepper trees near the Hartman property line on Batavia and La Veta streets, as the trees were affected with oak root rot and were infecting orange trees in the Hartman grove. Permission was granted Hartman to remove the trees.

C. C. Bonebrake was instructed to proceed in making arrangements to move the service station at the corner of Chapman and Main streets and to confer with the owner of the land, F. West, of Garden Grove.

WESTMINSTER SCHOOL OPEN ON MARCH 25

WESTMINSTER, March 6.—The new Mexican school of the Westminster district is nearing completion and March 25 has been set as the date for the dedication service, which will be held at 7:30 o'clock.

The appointment of the principal of the Americanization school has been made, Mrs. Hazle Peck Campbell, present third grade teacher in the local school, being given the position.

The spring vacation of the local school begins April 1 and with the reopening of school one week later the new arrangement of classes in the new school will be made.

Beginning at that time, Americanization classes for the adult Mexicans of the community will be held in the new school and each teacher of the local school will devote one evening each month to the classes. The classes are to be held one evening each week. It is not known yet just how many pupils will be enrolled in the Americanization class but a recent survey showed a large number of the Mexican parents eager to attend classes.

A school orchestra is being organized in the Westminster school under the leadership of Mrs. Ed L. Hensley, of Midway City. Orchestra practice will be held each Thursday between the hours of 2 and 4.

A half holiday was being declared for the Westminster school this afternoon, pupils of the upper grades and all of the teachers of the school attending the Mission play at San Gabriel. The school bus took the party to the play.

A radio set was installed by Postmaster Clyde Kay at the local school auditorium Monday for the benefit of the school, classes with the exception of the kindergarten, being dismissed for the hour of the inaugural address.

WESTMINSTER IS ASSURED OF NEW TELEPHONE OFFICE, LATEST TYPE APPARATUS

WESTMINSTER, Mar. 6.—Westminster residents, who for years have had to "crank" their old model telephones to get the operator, were today looking forward to a new era of communication with the announcement made at a chamber of commerce meeting there last night that a new central office would be located in the town immediately and that modern phones would replace the antiquated instruments.

Four service has been the complaint of telephone users in Westminster for years and it was through the chamber of commerce that the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company has agreed to replace the old system. It was said.

Announcement also was made at the meeting that petitions for street lighting throughout most of the town were ready to be circulated and predictions were made that little trouble would be experienced in securing enough names to make the plan feasible.

The district where lights will be stationed if the signatures are secured starts one quarter of a mile north of Westminster avenue, and extends one quarter of a mile south and from the McCoy tract on the east Golden West avenue on the west.

TAX ORDINANCE REVISION SEAL BEACH SUBJECT

SEAL BEACH, March 6.—Revision of the business license ordinance in Seal Beach was advocated by the chamber of commerce at a meeting held last night in the Seal cafe. The matter that the business men of Seal Beach wish to see corrected is the quarterly payment of license, whereby the outsider brings in his stock of goods on a holiday and is able to compete with the resident merchants by the payment of a nominal sum. The raising of the license to $50 for the first year with a refund for the next two seasons was one of the plans suggested and the payment of the year's fee on July 1 another.

A committee of four was appointed to investigate the methods of handling this problem in other cities and to offer a recommendation to the city council. Members of this committee are Lee C. Benno, Walter Stortz, David Collier and A. E. Walker.

On his arrival in the city he was met by George Scherck, editor of the El Heraldo de San Clemente and a former army aviator; Virgil Westbrook, San Clemente architect and an aviation officer in the reserve corps, and Capt. H. H. Hammer, who has done flying in the vicinity of the North Pole.

ERECTION OF $17,000 WATER TANK IS URGED

ORANGE, Mar. 6.—In order to avoid pumping water directly into a portion of the city mains to supply pressure, City Water Superintendent W. J. Richardson yesterday asked the city council to authorize the erection of a steel tank to hold 250,000 gallons and to cost $17,000.

The two wood tanks now used hold 50,000 gallons each, he said. They are 82 feet high. The new tank would be 145 feet high.

Richardson stated that a $5000 pump must be purchased at once if the tank is not erected. Richardson declared that $13,500 is available in the water fund and that this money could be used for the tank. The council took the matter under advisement.

ESSEX the Challenger is put to the proof
...under official newspaper observers

In Fast Getaway—no car is excepted.

In Speed—anything the road offers up to 70 miles an hour.

In Hill Climbing—the hardest hills in this community—and in America.

In Reliability—60 miles an hour all day.

In Economy—better than 20 miles to the gallon.

IN THIS CITY under official newspaper observation, Essex the Challenger will demonstrate its right to challenge the best that motordom offers. It is dramatic revelation of an all round quality Six—big, fast, roomy, powerful—now available at the lowest price for which Essex ever sold and but little more than the cost of the smallest, lightest and lowest-priced cars on the market. Watch the announcement of results in this newspaper. And remember, as you see it out perform, not only all cars of its price class, but cars costing twice as much, that exactly the same performance ability, quality, economy and riding ease are characteristic in the Essex the Challenger which you buy.

And in Value—compare it part for part in every quality particular of appearance, finish, comfort and easy riding to those costly cars in which you pay the higher price for those very things.

APPOINTEES TO RADIO BOARD IN JAM IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The three reappointed federal radio commissioners—Ira E. Robinson, Eugene O. Sykes and Harold A. Lafount—were favorably reported to the senate by its interstate commerce committee, but the two proposed new members, appointed by Coolidge, were called for examination. They were Arthur Batcheller, representing the First Zone, and Prof. Cyril M. Jansky, representing the Fourth Zone.

While the senate committee was seeking more information on these two, trade bodies, broadcasting associations and other organizations interested directly in radio, voiced approval of the selections, since Batcheller has had abundant experience as radio supervisor in the New York area, and Professor Jansky is one of the country's leading lights in radio technique.

Jansky Conducts Course
He conducted the radio course at the University of Minnesota and has been foremost as an expert on interference and its elimination.

Some opposition has developed to the confirmation of Batcheller and Jansky although what the reasons were could not be learned.

When the commission is finally organized it will elect its own officers. Whether Robinson will remain chairman has not been decided. The commission may vote to have him stay as such, or may elect one of its other members as chairman, since this particular body does not adhere to the rotary system that obtains in other commissions, where each commissioner serves for one year as chairman.

Craven to Leave

Some personnel changes in the commission's staff are imminent. It is said that Lt. Com. T. A. M. Craven, N. S. N., who was loaned by the navy as a short-wave expert, is to resume his work with the navy. This resumption is expected to take place in two weeks. Hence this position would have to be filled, particularly as short waves present one of the most serious problems.

Also Louis G. Caldwell, who has been general counsel to the commission, is leaving to resume the private practice of law. Bethuel M. Webster, of Denver, Colo., an assistant United States attorney-general, is mentioned as Caldwell's likely successor.

TO STUDY BASSOON ON STANDARD HOUR

School children and other auditors throughout the west will hear an interesting description of the bassoon and its music during the Standard School broadcast presented through stations of the NBC system from 11:30 a. m. to 12 o'clock tomorrow.

KFI will release the program. Examples of music played by the bassoon will be selected from passages from Weber, Beethoven, Boieldieu, Mendelssohn and other noted composers.

Following the discussion of the bassoon the romantic movement of the 19th century will be considered. Particular attention will be given to the music of Bohemia.

A father, whose family of nine grown children is scattered all over the country, from New York to California, is the author of what we consider a very beautiful idea—
In a letter to A. Atwater Kent, this man related how he and the members of his family, wherever they might be, have arranged to be close to one another as the hymn, 'Now the Day is Over,' which closes each Sunday night's Atwater Kent program on the NBC chain, is sung—
'When this hymn is sung we have arranged that we will all think of one another and pray for one another,' the father writes, and 'Perhaps others would be helped by doing the same.'—
This father's idea again brings to our minds how radio is helping to bring about 'Ties that bind'—

W. M. Clark, sales manager for the Preston Radio company, today revealed, for the benefit of DX fans, that 2YA, in Wellington, New Zealand, is coming through with good volume for those who don't mind remaining awake and at their dials until after 1 o'clock in the morning. At 1:15 a. m., March 3, he said, he tuned in a 2YA program and was able to list almost every number presented. He recently received verification of a program he tuned in several months ago and has written for confirmation of the March 3 reception. 2YA, he says, comes in about half way between WLW and WGN.

Jack And Ethyl Off On Roads To Romance Tonight

A trip into the Pacific northwest will be described by Jack and Ethyl, the entertaining Motor-mates, during the "Roads and Romance" broadcast from 8 to 8:30 tonight through NBC system stations.

Jack and Ethyl also will visit the district where "Tracy," a famous bandit, and his followers were active in the early days of California. The Tracy story will be retold.

"Roads to Romance" will be broadcast through stations KHQ, Spokane; KOMO, Seattle; KGW, Portland; KGO, Oakland; KPO, San Francisco, and KFI, Los Angeles.

KPO OPERATORS ARE PUZZLED BY FREAK SONG

Another proof that fact is stronger than fiction!

On a recent evening KPO presented a half-hour program, from 6 to 6:30 featuring the KPO Carolers, a singing team of rather unusual blend. This team which is a popular favorite over the Hale-Chronicle station, is composed of Refa Miller, soprano; Urban Hartmann, tenor, and Harvey Orr, baritone.

Nothing unusual happened until approximately 6:20 when Miss Miller was singing a verse of the song "Marie." Suddenly Don Thompson, announcer on duty, was called to the operating room by the operator, Orrin Brown. In the operating room coming in through the loud speaker, was to be heard a perfect tenor and soprano duet and, although Miss Miller was singing a solo, her voice was part of the duet. The duet was in the same key and tempo with orchestral accompaniment. The effort was uncanny in the extreme and puzzling at first. The duet was continued to the end of the first chorus, when Brown cut off the tenor and orchestra.

The explanation is this: A National Broadcasting company transcontinental program was to follow the KPO Carolers and it is customary to test through on the lines to see that everything is ready. The KPO operator turned his key to take the test. The duet was the result. Later it was ascertained that the eastern program was being presented in New York by the Ipana Troubadours and that it was "The Singing Troubadour" who sang with Miss Miller. The other artists on the KPO program heard and vouch as to the truth of the unexpected duet and all say that no duet could have been more perfect had it been planned and sung in the same studio. It might be added, incidentally, that Miss Miller and the "Singing Troubadour" harmonized beautifully and all were sorry that the effect could not have been broadcast.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
Broadway says Der Paulie Berlenbach is going to the vaudeville in Germany... at two grando a week... 20 weeks... Ben-gough traveled alone to the Yankees' camp this summer... he left the sax at home... Andy Cohen and "Shanty" Hogan, vaudeville, were booked in New York as Cohen and Hogan... in Boston as Hogan and Cohen... in South Boston as Hogan and Company... so they say... Tommy Warne is a young pole vaulter worth watching... he is a soph at Northwestern... and already has topped 13 feet 4 inches... A guy named Tschatschula pitches in a Texas league... thank goodness... Two Atlanta boys, Carl Agricola and Louis Effell, biked 600 miles to see the Sharkey Stribling thing... for two days and two nights... Oregon State says its polo team costs $130 a man... and that is plenty cheap.

TOUGH ON ALEX

It is interesting to observe the demand being made for the services of those fellows who helped Bill Alexander turn out that crack football team at Georgia Tech last fall.

It may be remembered that Alex's team was undefeated in the southland, that it defeated Notre Dame for the first time, and then eked out a victory over California in the annual Tournament of Roses game.

Don Miller was one of Alex's assistants. He coached the backs, and there is no need to tell anyone that he did a very swell job of it. Few teams had a better backfield than Georgia Tech had in Mizell, Thomason, Lumpkin and Durant.

When Ohio State appointed Sam Williamson successor to Dr. Jack Wilce, the first step Williamson made was to enlist Miller's services as backfield coach. The former Four Horseman lives in Cleveland, where he practices law nine months of the year, and the post was accepted.

YALE WANTS FINCHER

Another fellow whom Alex is quite willing to give ample credit for the part he played in the development of the Georgia Tech team, this year and other years, is Bill Fincher.

Fincher is one of the greatest players ever turned out in the south, and was an All-America line choice a number of years ago.

Fincher, so the rumor has it, won't be back at Georgia Tech next fall. It is said he has been approached by Mal Stevens, the young Yale coach, with a proposition that would give the Eli institution his services as line coach during the football season.

IF THIS IS TRUE—

Another interesting angle to this rumored offer to Fincher is that it may mean the breaking up of the graduate system of coaching at New Haven.

If the offer was made, and there seems ample reason to believe that Stevens did write Fincher to that effect, it can be taken for granted that Stevens didn't do so of his volition without the consent or approval of the football committee.

Their sanction of such an offer naturally implies that they are quite willing to have the forward wall at Yale directed by a coach other than one who learned his football at Yale.

PENALTY TO HONOR

Fincher's loss, added to Miller's departure, would be a severe blow to Georgia Tech football, but not one which would be so terrible that Bill Alexander couldn't get out from under.

He has said nothing of the rumored offer to Fincher. Atlanta newspapers, however, have been crying in alarm about it, and implying the athletic authorities at Georgia Tech to do all in their power to keep Fincher for the Tornado.

Being a graduate of Tech, Fincher may be a hard man to take away from New Haven. On the other hand, Yale is one of the richest schools in the country and well able to make an attractive offer to any man it really wants.

The moral to all this, if there is any, is that Alex is paying a penalty for all the honor heaped upon him and his football team last fall—the penalty of losing two major assistants who helped him make the team this outstanding one of the year.

SAINT 'BEES' TO BATTLE FULLERTON

Portland Opens Five-Day Stand Tomorrow

'STUDENTS' ARE FIRST FOES AT TRAINING CAMP

Portland's busy Beavers will play the first of five consecutive exhibition baseball games at the Orange County Fair grounds tomorrow afternoon.

Jess Orendorff's National Baseball school, a team that pushed the professionals 12 innings last Saturday, will be Thursday's opposition. Either Fullerton junior college or Occidental college will meet the Beavers here Friday.

Class AA competition is scheduled for Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Some of Oscar Vitt's Hollywood Stars, who are training in San Diego, will travel north for the Saturday bill while Ivan Howard's Oakland Acons, who are conditioning at Bakersfield, come down for the Sunday and Monday dates.

These five straight games plunge Portland into the thick of its splendid exhibition series during which 16 and possibly 17 battles will be fought here. Sixteen were on the original schedule but prospects are still bright for a mixup with the Chicago Cubs, who last year attracted a tremendous turnout to the local lot. Secretary Roy Mack went to Catalina yesterday for the purpose of engineering this contest if possible.

The Beavers went through another hard workout at the Fair grounds today but minus the services of Ray Woodruff, young outfielder from Sawtelle, and Harold Swain, catcher from Long Beach junior college, who have been dropped from the ranks. Manager Bill Rodgers thinks both lads have possibilities but that they do not measure up to Coast league requirements now.

President Tom Turner is on his way to Paso Robles to interview Pittsburgh officialdom about a pitcher and an outfielder for the Beavers. The Pirates owe Portland some help and Turner wants to be on the ground floor and see personally the talent that he gets.

JUNIORS DECLARED CINDER CHAMPIONS

The Santa Ana Daily Register's perpetual cup was awarded to the junior class of Santa Ana high school today as reward for the juniors' victory in the annual interclass track meet.

Coach "Tex" Oliver declared the meet closed yesterday when only a few hurdlers showed up to take part in the two events that were not held Monday. The juniors already had clinched the championship with 56 points to 31-2 for the seniors and 17-2-3 for the sophomores.

The Poly Movie club then took charge of the track and shot some scenes for its forthcoming film of school life. Many stars of the track squad as well as Coaches Oliver, Walter Scott and Bill Cook were "mugged."

The Saints will be idle competitively until Saturday afternoon when they engage Glendale in a league dual meet on the local oval. Glendale had a great team last season built around Frank Wykoff and Russ Slocum but both of these boys have graduated and Santa Ana is given an even chance for victory.

CRAVATH PROBABLE TROY FROSH COACH

Official announcement is expected within a few days of the appointment of Newell ("Jeff") Cravath, of Santa Ana, as freshman football coach at the University of Southern California who will go to the University of Idaho as head coach.

Cravath, former Santa Ana and Trojan grid star, is now one of Howard Jones' varsity assistants in football and freshman baseball mentor.

Morgan May Do Training At Clemente

NEW YORK, March 6.—Strict regulations have been imposed for the official football for 1929, Chairman Edward K. Hall, of the national football rules committee, announced here today.

The football this year is to have a circumference of its short axis from 22 to 22-1/2 inches, length of long axis to be from 11 to 11-1/2 inches, the entire surface to be convex. The ball is to be inflated with not more than 15 nor less than 13 pounds of air.

The regulations were imposed when it was found that widely differing balls had been used throughout the country last year.

20 REPORT FOR FIRST PRACTICE OF BALL TEAM

Twenty disciples of that great American game, baseball, reported to Coach Bill Foote yesterday for the first official practice of the 1929 season at Santa Ana high school.

Out of this number, only five were members of last year's squad. This isn't overly encouraging except for the fact that all of the quintet are good players, readily capable of holding down their respective berths. Captain Curt Youel, first sacker in 1927 and 1928, will lead the Saints this season. Youel is a southpaw and socks them far and wide.

Wayne Vance, understudy to Melvin Beatty last spring, will don the mask and protector behind the plate. Baseball runs in this family. His brother, Wendell Vance, was one of the Saint pitchers last year. "Daddy" Vance, the great Brooklyn hurler, is his uncle and his father played professional ball also.

Willcutt Back to Pitch

Johnny Willcutt, tall right hander, is expected to do the bulk of the Santa Ana pitching. He started the 1928 campaign as a second stringer but got most of the big assignments when he showed rapid development. Marvin Johnston, a southpaw, will also be called on frequently although he is likely to work in the Saint outfield, as he did last year, when not pitching.

The other veteran is Jimmy Hall, third baseman who plays football basketball as well as baseball. Santa Ana's first Coast Preparatory league game is set for April 26 with Long Beach here. Other conference teams to be seen here are South Pasadena, Glendale and Alhambra. The Whittier, Pasadena and San Diego games will be played on foreign soil.

Coach Foote has a practice game tentatively scheduled for next week with Bill Cole's Tustin aggregation which is expected to be a contender in the Orange league. Other practice starts will be against Fullerton, Covina and Fullerton.

Those who engaged in the first night's batting practice were Captain Curt Youel, Wayne Vance, Marvin Johnston, John Willcutt, Jimmy Hall, Alfred Peterson, Bob Beaver, Earl Homan, Lloyd Kneeland, Chet Ewing, Earl Kent, Joe Prehnring, George Meurs, Vincent Cox, Willard Minor, Paul Wright, Raymond Nowotny, Clayton Kaps, Jack McFadden and Jean Willcutt.

Of this number, six are juniors, seven are seniors and seven are sophomores. More candidates are expected this week. Suits were issued by Coach Foote yesterday.

BOARD AUTHORIZES BREA STREET WORK

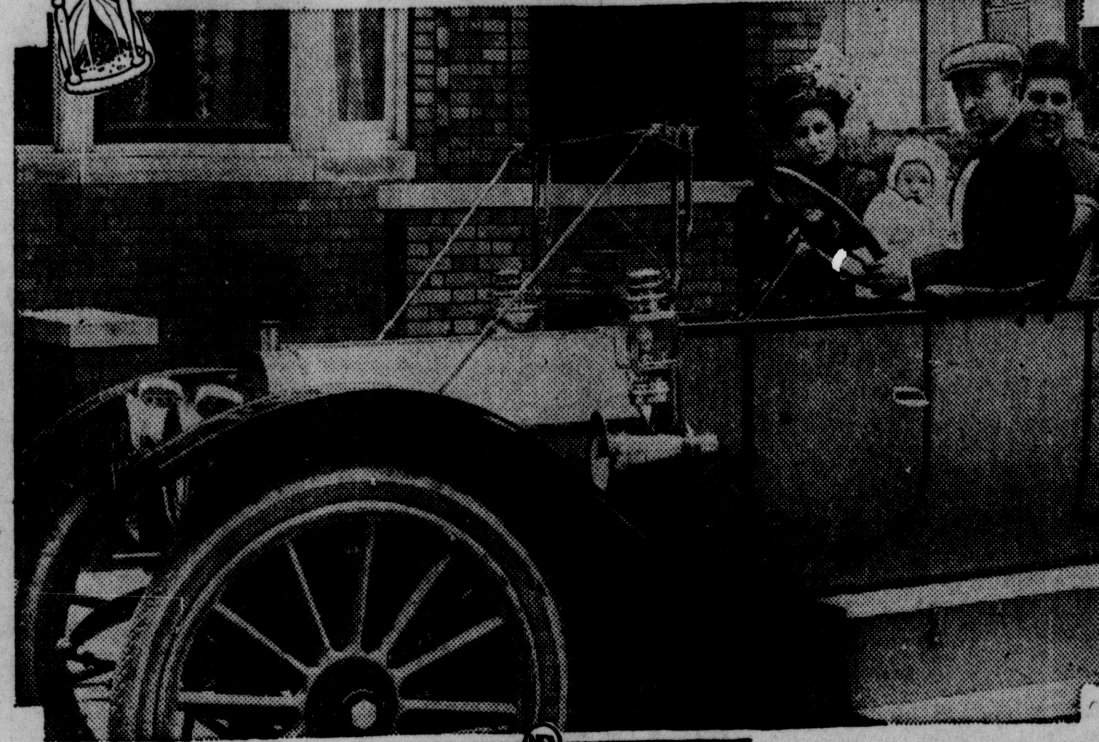

Grading of Cedar street, Brea, with construction of culverts over a strip one and one-half miles long had been authorized today by the board of supervisors.

Net Neff, highway superintendent, presented plans and specifications for the project to the board yesterday. The supervisors launched proceedings to advertise for bids.

It is estimated that the project will cost in the neighborhood of $12,500, according to Neff. Meanwhile it is expected that work will begin in the near future on realignment of the Brea canyon road. This project will cost approximately $59,000.

JULIA LATHROP SENIORS BEAT ORANGE CLASS C TRACK TEAM

Coach Ferris Scott's senior track team of Julia Lathrop junior high school opened its dual meet season auspiciously yesterday, burying the Class C athletes of Orange high school under a score of 51 3-4 points to 25 1-4. No exceptional records were made as many of the Spartan contestants were kept out of their favorite events so as to participate in places where they would do their team the most good.

In a few weeks there will be a return meet between the Orange "Cees" and the Spartans and Orange will use its ninth grade students to give the Santa Ana boys keener competition.

JACKIE STEWART, AKRON K. O. ARTIST, HERE FOR FRIDAY GO

By RINGSIDER
Jackie Stewart, a strapping welterweight from Akron, O., with a knockout record almost as long as Knout Stribling's, is in Santa Ana and hard at work for his first California bout, scheduled for Friday night at the Orange County Athletic Club. He will meet the "Black Cyclone," Harry Johnson, in the semi-windup over a six-round course.

Stewart is under contract to "Bud" Rutledge, a well known figure in Orange county fisticuffs. The "Akron Assassin" tapes up to 5 feet, 9 inches and weighs 148 pounds although in his street clothes he looks heavier. He is 21 years old. Rutledge thinks he is a fine prospect.

The newcomer's book of clippings confesses to 40 matches, waged in Ohio, West Virginia, Michigan and Texas. He scored 32 knockouts and won four decisions. He lost three bouts and fought one draw. He has never been stopped.

Most of Stewart's battles were held in Akron although he frequently appeared in rings at Toledo, Lima, Marion, Cleveland and Warren. Once he got a nice shot in Detroit. On his way to the coast he stole into Pampa, Childress and Wichita Falls, all in Texas, and knocked off a few local favorites.

Stewart is biting off a good sized morsel in the dusky Johnson who has been coming to the front with amazing rapidity.

One important change in the previously announced card for Friday was made today. Aurelio Huerra, the hard-punching welter who beat Fred Tegovitz here last Friday will face Jesse Hobson in the main event. Billy Abramson was originally billed for the windup.

Ty Cobb, at his Augusta, Ga., home, may see this. And if he does, he probably will express the wish that his legs were as good now as they were the day this photograph was taken.

One look at that chariot Ty and his wife and baby son are sitting in shows that it was snapped many years ago. It was somewhere along 1912, when Ty was getting into his stride as one of the greatest baseball players of all time.

Ty hadn't been with the Detroit Tigers very long when this was taken and he hadn't accumulated the world goods that now make his retirement possible without any reason to worry about finances. He did, however, have his dough even then—and this big automobile is one of the first purchases he made. It was a sensation in his home town.

SEATTLE TRAINING CAMP, San Clemente, March 6.—Ernie Johnson turned over in his sick bed yesterday afternoon and divulged what he had been turning over in his mind.

Mr. Johnson had been aching all over from a severe cold bordering on flu, and adding to his headache was the heavy brainwork he went through, mulling over the outfield situation. His solution of the problem today was to rate Louie Almada, the speedy Mexican youth, as regular center fielder for the time being, thus moving Oscar Eckhardt over to left.

Bill Klepper may ease the Tribe skipper's troubles at any minute by buying another flyhound, but until he does, Almada is to be tried as permanent middle grader, letting Eckhardt get accustomed to left, where he is now virtually certain to play.

The reasons for this switch are easy. Eckhardt has not shown himself able to protect Dave Barbee the bulky right fielder, and Dave certainly needs help to cover up his slowness. Then, too, Os hasn't been starting fast enough on fly balls to indicate that he can cover his own ground. Hence Senior Almada stalks into a regular role. He is as fast as anyone on the club shagging fly balls, and has a good arm. What is as important, for a kid, he knows where to throw that baseball.

Johnson had to lay off all day today, with his cold, so Walter McCredie put the boys through their paces. A five-inning game was called for, which proved to be a pitchers' battle. A battle to see which could duck the most line drives. Kyle Graham had the heavier artillery on his side and therefore won. Both pitchers emerged unscathed, but Umpire Andy House was smacked in the ankle with a line drive and had to hobble from the scene. To make it a perfect day for Graham, he was smacked out two hits during one inning a big rally was staged. Bailey, cf; Mellott, rf.

If he decides to engage in one more fight, he will do so next fall, against the outstanding contender for the title laid aside by Gene Tunney. The chances are that Dempsey never will fight again, despite the urge, which he is resisting with difficulty, to have one more try.

It is more probable that Jack will consult with Humbert J. Fugazy here Thursday, find out for himself just what the man who aspired to be Tex Rickard's rival has to offer, and then enter the field of sports promotion as the figurehead of one of a number of syndicates now bidding for him.

Dempsey proved at Miami Beach that he is a more sound business man than Tex Rickard ever could have hoped to be. The ex-champion won the friendship and respect of men who heretofore had regarded him merely as a curiosity. If Jack chooses to cast his lot with the Madison Square Garden corporation, he is fixed for life.

But Dempsey has lent an ear to offers of much more money than the Garden can afford to pay him. Rickard, as president of the garden, received a salary of $30,000 a year. It would be impractical for the board of directors of that super-sports organization to pay Jack more.

Fugazy hopes to have a conference with Dempsey tomorrow, and is prepared to offer the former titleholder $500,000 to fight next fall. Floyd Fitzsimmons, Detroit promoter, is talking large sums to Jack in connection with a proposition whereby Dempsey would serve as head of a syndicate controlling racing, hockey, boxing and other sports in Michigan. George Getz, who was associated with Tex Rickard in the promotion of the Dempsey-Tunney fight in Chicago, wants the ex-champion to go to the Windy City in the role of promoter.

Whatever he takes up, Dempsey is assured of a royal return for his services during the coming months.

Football To Be Standard Next Season

Tod Morgan, junior lightweight champion of the world, expects to train at San Clemente for his bout in Los Angeles April 9 with Santiago Zorilla.

Morgan at present is living in Fullerton. He visited at San Clemente over the week-end with Leo Lassen, Seattle sports writer, and was impressed with the possibilities of the Spanish Village as a place for a boxer to keep fit. Ted said he drinks a glass of orange juice every two hours and he claims the diet has brought him better health than he has enjoyed for years. Morgan has always been bothered by poor health.

ALMADA TO BE REGULAR TRIBE CENTER FIELDER

CHAMPIONSHIP MATCH LIKELY FRIDAY NIGHT

Old time rivalry between Santa Ana and Fullerton high school will be renewed when the Class B basketball teams of the two Orange county institutions collide, probably at Tustin, Friday night, for the unofficial championship of Southern California. Fullerton, winner of the Orange league, pulled a surprise by outclassing the Woodrow Wilson middleweights at Fullerton last night, 27 to 9. The Long Beach five won the Bay league and was expected to take the measure of the Indian "Bees" but fell down badly in its assignment and was eliminated from the post-season series.

Woodrow Wilson made a game out of it for three quarters the count being 9 to 6 at the half but was unable to cope with Fullerton's strong finish in the last period.

Santa Ana also holds a decision over Wilson in a non-league practice contest but its margin of superiority was not as impressive as Fullerton's.

Neither the time nor the place was known definitely today but the Friday date was considered virtually certain in view of the fact that "Pop" Squires, dictator of interscholastic basketball, has ruled that Santa Ana and Woodrow Wilson were to meet the night if Wilson beat Fullerton.

Tustin's fine gymnasium floor will be available for the play-off. It is understood, and as both teams have played on it already this season the neighboring city is almost sure to get the nomination.

Fullerton has a splendid full Class B squad with Studley Pryor, Steele and McCaughy a fine shots.

Santa Ana will profit from the rest after its grueling season which a final play-off was necessary after the Saints and Long Beach had tied for first place.

Bill Erbe, running guard, who was out of the second Long Beach game with boils, is expected back on the floor for the Fullerton contest.

COSTA MESA BEATS SANTA ANA, 6 TO 0

Playing a brand of night baseball up to County league standard, Costa Mesa last night handed a setback at Costa Mesa. "Zuse" Ochoa and Jerry Heard tolled for the locals and both were hit hard. Costa Mesa gave its gunner, Loni perfect support. The lineup:

Santa Ana—Speed, c; Ochoa, p; Miller, 1b; Yoder, 2b; Smith; Poston, 3b; Heard, lf; Main; cf; Lackaye, rf.

Costa Mesa—Peterlin, c; Long; p; Marshall, 1b; Messing, 2b; Will; ss; Pangle, 3b; Castle, lf; one inning a big rally was staged. Bailey, cf; Mellott, rf.

Washington for the league batting championship. Delving into the recesses of the record archives of the American league one can find figures to show that Heinie hit left handed pitching at a .388 clip while the right handers held him to a .374 average.

Not a great difference but enough to keep Manush from winning the batting title he fought for all season.

One reason for Goslin's success in the race was the fact that they all looked alike to him—left or right handed. He batted the southpaw offerings at a .376 clip and the others at .380.

Gehrig's Record

Had Lou Gehrig of the championship Yankees been able to handle left handed pitchers as he did those who wound up on the right, he would have won the league batting title by a mile. A left hander himself, Lou found his fellow southpaws exceedingly hard to solve and his average was only .313 against this style of pitching.

Against the right handers, however, Lou shone at his best as his .402 average shows.

On the other hand Al Simmons Connie Mack's great outfielder at Philadelphia, might have won the batting crown with even greater ease had he been able to hit right handers as he could the southpaws.

Al led the league in batting against left handed opposition with a mark of .420. His average suffered badly, however, when balanced with his performance against the right handers who held him to a .335 percentage.

The great Babe Ruth experienced his greatest difficulties when facing southpaws, the records show. The left handers held him to an average of .296 in 46 games. Fortunately he spent most of his batting time against the right handers who were more kind and yielded a .381 percentage in 103 games.

Ruth's Strike-Outs

The left handers also found Ruth easy to retire via the strikeout method and sent him to the bench without connecting on 35 occasions during the 46 games. The right handers retired him on strikes 52 times in the 103 games.

CONFIDENCE IS YOUTH'S NEED. CLAIMS DEXTER

"A young person to succeed today must supplant the emotion of fear with the emotion of confidence; he must supplant the virtue of prudence with the virtue of adventure, and he must supplant the ambition of security with the ambition of service."

These words held the challenge of successful living for youth, when delivered with forceful meaning by Dr. Walter Dexter, president of the Whittier college, who gave the main address last night at the third dedicatory program of the First Methodist church's new educational-social unit here.

"This is the fundamental characteristic of the age," Dexter continued. "We are living in an adventurous age. We are entering on life with a spirit of friendship, a spirit of fellowship, a spirit of generous consideration and a spirit of progressive goodwill."

"Our success depends on information, plus motive or impulse, plus power, and when clothed with authority will make for social solidarity."

In considering his subject, the speaker asked the three questions of youth: Where did we come from? Where are we going? What are we to do under the circumstances?

In referring to the attempt to make the Golden Rule applicable to the history of the world at this time, Dexter said:

"Civilization has been guided and directed because of the 10 negative laws from ages of the past, but religion is not a negative philosophy of life. It is the supreme duty of the individual to love God and to love man."

Expressing his faith in the youth of today, Dr. Dexter predicted that "young people will carry the Christian message out into the world—a great adventure—and out of service will find security."

"So we think in terms of the great problems," he concluded, "with the great challenges of today."

Other features of interest at the banquet last night included cello numbers, by Edward H. Burns, and songs by a group of talented Mexican singers, Miss Louis Gould sang "My Creed," by Elizabeth Garret.

Lucile Lloyd, mural painter and decorator, who finished the interior of the chapel, social hall and senior high school room in the new building, gave an entertaining talk on the background of Christian symbolism. She displayed and explained designs used in the new building and exemplified what is meant by her statement: "The artist groups of the world are the Gypsies of the economic order."

The Rev. James H. Hughes, minister of education, acted as master of ceremonies during the banquet hour. He also led the young people in community singing. T. P. McKee said grace before the dinner program. J. Wesley Hole, assistant to B. C. Corley and conference director of young people's work, was toastmaster.

"A speech to be immortal does not need to be eternal," Hole said and briefly expressed his confidence in the youth of today.

Dr. George A. Warner, pastor, gave a short talk of introduction and appreciation of the teachers' training class, taught by Mrs. R. H. McArthur. He said Dr. Morgan O'Dell, who graded the examinations of this class in the church school, was of the opinion that no more effective department exists in this district.

Seated at the hosts' table were speakers of the evening, the orchestra and leaders of young people's work, who were introduced during the program. These included Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Theal, Miss Dorothy Cartwright, Mrs. Lucile Lloyd, Dr. George A. Warner, J. Wesley Hole, the Rev. and Mrs. James H. Hughes, Dr. and Mrs. Walter Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. McKee, R. R. Lutes, Edward Burns, Miss Dorothy Holmes and Miss Eleanor Guyer. Miss Eva Ramsey is pianist of the department.

The Rev. Mr. E. E. Garcia, pastor of the Mexican Methodist church here, closed the affair with the benediction.

FIVE HELD FOR 'MOST BRUTAL MURDER'

Tell-tale wagon tracks led from the dank South Georgia swamp in which lay the mutilated body of Ira Byrd, a farmer, back to Byrd's own home. Officers discovered first the "death wagon," then crimson stains on a porch, and later blood spots on an axe. With these as a nucleus, they built up a murder case against the slain man's widow, with whom he had quarreled, and four neighboring farmers. The quintet of defendants in this "most brutal killing in Georgia crime history," shortly to come to trial, are pictured above, left to right, at top: Powell Brandon, Lawton Dixon and Levy Smith; and at bottom, Dan Tyre and Mrs. Byrd, the widow.

JOHNSON SAYS FAREWELL TO COUNTY PRESS

Brief recital of some of the outstanding news "breaks" in Orange county in the 45 years he has been engaged in newspaper work in the county was made by Edgar Johnson, former publisher of the Fullerton Tribune, at the meeting of the Orange County Press club, last night, in the Legion hut, Balboa.

The meeting took on the color of a farewell to Johnson and a welcome to McKee Maxwell, who recently purchased the Fullerton Tribune, and members of his staff. Johnson's address concluded the talkfest arranged by President Lotus Louden and Merle Hussion.

Johnson revealed that his first business enterprise in Santa Ana was publication of a theater program for plays presented in the Spurgeon theater. Later he extended the service to include a program for a theater in Anaheim.

Launched S. A. Weekly. He launched the Weekly Tribune in Santa Ana in 1889 and, after a brief period of operation here, transferred his plant to Fullerton, where he started the Weekly Tribune, which he later developed into a daily.

During the early period of his newspaper life in Fullerton he also was justice of the peace. He recounted last night, as one of the amusing incidents of his service as justice of the peace, an experience with a jury. Following presentation of evidence in a case, the jury retired to a room at the rear of the office. After waiting a long time for the jury to return a verdict on a very minor matter, Johnson made investigations and discovered that the delayed verdict was due to the fact that the jurors had been engaged in discussing the contents of several bottles of beer than in deliberating on the evidence presented. He explained that several cases of beer had come under his jurisdiction as justice of the peace and that it had been stored in the room used by the jurors.

Preceding Johnson's talk, brief addresses were made by Maxwell; Art Chamberlain, sports writer with the Seattle Post-Intelligencer; Al Schulz, sports writer with the Seattle Star; Leo Lassen, sports writer with the Seattle Star; V. D. Johnson, director of county publicity; Dr. F. W. Slabaugh, county purchasing agent; Jimmie Heffron, sports editor of the Anaheim Bulletin, who sang his swan song as he enters a new field of activity on Monday; Burt Smith, state editor of the Los Angeles Times; J. F. Frederick, suburban editor of the Long Beach Press-Telegram; George Macleod, secretary of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, and H. H. Williamson, Newport Beach city councilman.

Resolutions of condolence were passed on the death of Jack Fisher, staff artist of The Register. A program by professional entertainers concluded the evening. Dinner was prepared and served by the auxiliary of the Newport Beach Legion post.

The next meeting of the organization will be held in Anaheim.

COUNTY G. O. P. VOICES LOSS IN COLLIER DEATH

The sincere regard in which the late E. B. Collier, first city manager of Santa Ana, was held by members of the Republican central committee of Orange county is expressed in a resolution recently adopted by that body and made public today. The resolution is as follows:

Collier, our country has lost a true and loyal patriot, our community a just and upright citizen, the Republican party a zealous worker and a straight forward proponent of clean politics; and we of the Orange County Republican Central committee, have lost a true friend, a brotherly associate and a most trusted advisor; be it further

"Resolved, that we extend to the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy; and be it further

Twenty-three arrests were made yesterday, 11 for violation of the one-hour law, 11 for violation of the two-hour law and one for violation of the 10-minute ordinance.

ENGAGED—DIVORCE TO COME!

The latest thing in engagement announcements is to send them out before the divorce. That's what Evelyn Nesbit did. She, former wife of Harry K. Thaw, is now wed to her dancing partner, Jack Clifford. But when she decided to marry Ivan Alexievitch Romanoff, basso in a Broadway opera, she didn't think it necessary to wait for court action before giving out the news. So here you see her happy in the arms of her new fiance, who says he is a prince, or something, in the royal Russian family.

PRESS IS ASKED TO USE IRVINE IDENTIFICATION

That the board of supervisors again will launch a campaign for changing the name of Orange County park to Irvine park was revealed by Dr. F. W. Slabaugh, county purchasing agent, at the meeting of the Orange County Press club, last night, in the Legion hut, Balboa.

Announcing that he had been directed by the board to at once place a sign at the entrance to the park indicating it as Irvine park, Slabaugh asked the co-operation of newspapermen of the county in "putting over" the change in name.

Slabaugh pointed out that the park of 160 acres was given to the county by James Irvine about 15 years ago and he declared that the name under which the recreation area has been known for so many years "just grew" by general adoption of the name by the public.

"It is the desire of the supervisors that the park be given the name of the donor and every effort will be made to bring the name into permanent use," Dr. Slabaugh said, and he added that road signs directing the route to the park would be changed to conform to the plan of the board.

The club took no formal action on the request of the county official, but by inference indicated co-operation of the newspapermen of the county by referring in new articles to Irvine park instead of Orange County park.

A few years ago the supervisors, by formal motion, changed the name to Irvine park, but newspapers did not co-operate to the extent of using the new name. Some of the publications took the position that by using the name of Orange County park the playgrounds were very definitely identified as being in Orange county.

Garden Grove Girl to Wed Anaheim Man In May

That Miss Irene Natland, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Natland of Garden Grove, will wed Ray Reafsnider of Anaheim early in May was the delightful news told a group of her friends Monday night when they gathered at the Natland home for an evening of bridge.

Guests of Miss Natland included two bridge clubs of which she is a member and members of one club would be present so the evening held two pleasant surprises instead of only the one.

Several happy games of bridge were enjoyed and when scores were added it was found that Mrs. Marian Noble of this city was high, while Mrs. Howard Barnes of Garden Grove was second high and Mrs. Delbert Wilkinson of that city was low. Each received a dainty gift.

A crystal vase, filled with pink sweet peas centered each table for the supper hour and the little old fashioned ladies bearing a bouquet of roses made adorable place cards. When guests inspected the place cards more closely they discovered that beneath the miniature bouquets were tiny cards announcing the engagement of Miss Natland and Mr. Reafsnider.

Miss Natland has many friends in Santa Ana for she attended the local high school and later graduated from a business college in this city. At present she is bookkeeper at the First National bank of Garden Grove.

Mr. Reafsnider is connected with a furniture company in Anaheim. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Reafsnider of Delphos, Kansas, in which city he received most of his education.

Miss Natland's guests included Miss Mildred Vieira, Miss Helen Hull, Miss Mary Bentjen, Miss Della Iman, Miss Bernice Gohres, Miss Evelyn Corder, Miss Catherine Williams, and Mrs. Marian Noble of Santa Ana, Miss Marie Schaffer of Anaheim, Mrs. Howard Barnes, Mrs. Delbert Wilkinson, Mrs. Wayne Reafsnider, Miss Gertrude Jentes, Miss Ethel Bond and Miss Clara Wilkinson of Garden Grove.

TOTS ENJOY SELVES CELEBRATING BIRTHDAY OF PLAYMATE

An idea of the happy time enjoyed yesterday afternoon by little Miss Dorothy Earle Westover, daughter of the Harry C. Westovers, 1527 East Fourth street, and her playmates and school friends, may be gained from a glimpse of the picture, showing the children grouped with their dolls on the lawn. Dorothy is shown seated directly behind one of her birthday cakes, and is the little maid with a ribbon tied around her chestnut hair.

All in pink were the flowers and gay decorations of the Harry C. Westover home yesterday; all in pink was the charming effect of the long table arranged on the lawn and bearing two huge birthday cakes, and all in pink was the little daughter of the home, Dorothy Earle Westover, for it was her very own birthday that was being so happily celebrated, and pink is the color that Dorothy loves above all others.

Excitement has run high among the friends of the little maid ever since they received the cunning invitations sent out for the affair. These had been rhymed by Dorothy's father, Harry C. Westover, and read:

"About this time of year, I have a little party;
And won't you come my dear, to my birthday party?
And won't you bring your dolly, all spick and span and clean?
For to leave her home on such a day, I think would just be mean.

The date? O yes, March 5, and don't you dare be late,
For the party is from 3 to 5 on this birthday date."

As a consequence the Westover home at 1527 East Fourth street, seemed to blossom like a human flower garden with tiny girls and boys and cunning dolls of every description shared guest honors, and were exhibited in an enjoyable doll parade which entertained the children, but also gave pleasure to a little group of older friends gathered to share Dorothy's party. Among these were Mrs. Ray Carter of Alhambra, Mrs. Ross Hostetler of Costa Mesa, Mrs. Bryant Commins of Riverside, Miss Jessie Musselman, Mrs. Clarence Nisson and Dean Anna Fisher, now of San Diego, but who was dean of women at the University of Arizona while both Mr. and Mrs. Westover were students there.

Miss Norma Forman and Miss Helen Kennedy of the John Muir staff of teachers were also guests, who aided Mrs. Westover in directing the games of the small people.

The two pink birthday cakes which adorned the table at the refreshment hour, were baked by Mrs. Hostetler and Miss Musselman, especially for little Miss Dorothy. Each was lighted by five rosy candles arranged amidst the cunning flowers and scrolls of the icing. Individual ices and pink mints were served with the cake.

The most exciting interval came when the little hostess was seated in the circle of her friends, to unwrap the array of birthday packages, which yielded every gift one small maiden could wish. And when the final goodbyes were said, each child guest was handed a colorful balloon as a memento of a happy afternoon.

The afternoon party was the second celebration of Miss Dorothy's fifth birthday, for in the morning hours Mrs. Westover staged a surprise for the children of the John Muir kindergarten, by appearing with individual birthday cakes, each iced in pink and bearing a pink candle, with candy and colorful cap favors for each of the 17 children of the group.

Those who shared the afternoon joys with Dorothy, included Marilyn Hostetler, was privileged to cut one of the birthday cakes and act as co-hostess, Eugenia Carter of Alhambra, Master Bryant Commins of Riverside, and his baby sister, Jeanne Carolyn, the youngest guest of all as she was but four months old; Mary Holmes, Dorothy Garner, Betty Holmes, Jane Downing, Jane Holmes, Jean Smith, June Tway, Sonny Boy Menzie, Virginia Scott, Teletah Dahl, Charles Geren, Karljean Galbraith, Matt Nisson, Helen Tidball, Richard Hunt, Gloria Clem, Dorothy Eddy, Patricia Rankin, Barbara Young, Marjorie Mize, Dorothy Randall, Wallace Enderle, Betty Campbell, Irma Mae Youel, Janis Campbell, Martha George, De Witt Hupp, Marion George, Alice Bartholomew, Catherine Quimby, Doris Wentworth, Barbara Quimby, Loreen Wentworth, Joyce Wentworth and Earle Ruddy Jr.

Executive Board of Federated Clubs Meets Here

Meeting at the Ebell club in this city, members of the Executive Board of the Orange County Federation of Women's clubs enjoyed an unusually interesting and profitable session at their bi-monthly meeting yesterday.

From 9:30 o'clock, when Mrs. Alfred Halleck of Orange, county parliamentarian, led in a half hour discussion and drill on parliamentary laws and usages, until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when Mrs. Ray G. Burlingame of Balboa, chairman of the legislation department finished an informal discussion of bills before the state legislature, there was not a dull moment in the day.

Mrs. Albert Launer of Fullerton, county president, was in the chair, and roll call indicated that attendance was unusually good, as nearly every county club was represented by its president and two or more members.

Chairmen had prepared written summaries of the year's work which were read. Reports were given by Mrs. C. G. Huston of Costa Mesa, district chairman of citizenship; for Mrs. H. N. White of Anaheim, county chairman of this department; Mrs. Phoebe Spensley of Brea, chairman of community service; Mrs. R. H. Downs of Huntington Beach, department of war veterans; Mrs. L. T. Wiley, Buena Park, department of American Home; Mrs. E. Johns, Los Alamitos, arts and crafts; Mrs. Donald Smiley, Orange, law and business insurance; Mrs. C. C. Bonebrake, Orange, history and landmarks; Mrs. Thomas Cummings, Laguna Beach, trees, birds and wild life; Ida Randall Bolles, Laguna Beach, art; Mrs. Harry Sears, Anaheim, literature; Mrs. Leon DesLarzes, Orange, music; Mrs. E. E. Smith, Anaheim, international relations; Mrs. Frank Rospaw, Placentia, press; Mrs. Harry H. Lewis, Garden Grove, federation news; Mrs. Floyd Morris, Westminster, public welfare; Mrs. S. W. Douglass, Fullerton, federation extension, and Mrs. W. P. Alexander, Fullerton, junior membership.

The luncheon hour was enlivened by a program of clever toasts, presented by the Toastmasters' section of the Anaheim Ebell club with Mrs. Charles E. Harbison as toastmaster. Toasts were given by Mrs. J. P. Brastad, "Boulder Dam, How and When," and by Mrs. H. H. Benjamin, "Club Husbands." The board of directors and members of the leader's section of the Ebell club of Santa Ana were hostesses at the luncheon.

Mary Wallace Wier of Los Angeles, who is celebrated for her work in the near East, used as her subject for her speech which was the outstanding event of the afternoon, "Education for Internationalism." Mrs. Wier spent a number of years in Turkey and other eastern countries following the world war where she founded several schools, and she told her listeners not only of her work there but the perspective gained for work at home.

The next meeting of the organization will be the annual county convention at Orange on April 28, when new officers will be elected. The last board meeting of the year will be held at Yorba Linda on Wednesday, May 1.

The second in a series of delightful affairs that have been planned by Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lacy and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Haan of this city as a compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Waffle who have recently moved here from Seattle, Wn., took place last night. Mr. Waffle is Mrs. Lacy's brother.

The colorful dinner party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Haan that was made attractive for the occasion through the use of a profusion of sweet peas in glowing pastel tints.

When bridge scores were added at the end of an evening of cards, it was found that Mr. and Mrs. James Harding were high and they were rewarded with a handsome gift as were Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Van Dlen who were second high. Mr. and Mrs. Waffle received the guest prize.

Water With Meals? Better Not

I am asked this question: "Is it advisable to drink water with one's meals, or half an hour before or after?"

Some authorities say "yes" but the majority say "no." I am inclined to agree with the No-ers, and these are my reasons:

The digestive juices which flow freely while a meal is being eaten are diluted by water taken too freely with meals, digestion is retarded and indigestion promoted.

Take careful note of a meal eaten without the drinking of much water and of one in which quantities of water (or other liquid) is taken. With the meal using water MORE FOOD is consumed by one-third than would be if the meal were eaten without water. This is an argument the overweight would do well to listen to.

At least three quarts of liquids are necessary during the 24 hours, part of this amount is found in watery vegetables, in salads, in fruit desserts, soups and other hot liquids. Water has its important place before the meal is eaten, especially in the morning before breakfast and between meals after digestion is well along.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Baked Halibut

1 thick slice of halibut
Flour to dredge.
Salt and pepper
1 small dry onion, chopped
1-2 green pepper, chopped
3 slices bacon, diced
6 slices of bacon
1 cup boiling water

This method of cooking halibut lends itself to casserole cooking. The casserole must be covered and the baking be slow.

Have the slice of fish cut 1-2 inches thick. Wash and wipe dry, rub lightly with salt and pepper and dredge well with flour. Put the six slices of bacon in the bottom of the casserole and lay the fish over them.

Chop the pepper and onion very fine—you can run them through the food chopper if you wish—add the finely diced bacon to them and pack them firmly over the slice of fish.

Cover and set to bake until the bacon begins to sizzle, then add the boiling water, very carefully, so that the casserole is not cracked. Cover again and bake until the fish will pierce readily with a fork—about three-fourths of an hour of moderate heat.

Take the slice out of the casserole carefully, add a tablespoonful of catsup to the juice remaining, strain and pour over the fish.

The quantities in the recipe serve four people. The calorie total is 1600, over half of which are the non-fattening protein in the fish.

Of course, no one serves a gravy swimming in fat, so the bacon thus loses most of its fat content.

"Before My Baby Came"

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound puts new life into me and makes my work in the store and in the house easier. I took several bottles before my baby came and am always singing its praises to my friends. I recommend it for girls and women of all ages. It makes me feel like life is worth living, my nerves are better and I have gained pep and feel well and strong."—Mrs. A. R. Smith, 808 S. Lansing Street, St. Johns, Michigan.

The WOMAN'S DAY

by ALLENE SUMNER

Women are generally accepted as the religious sex, infinitely more capable of religious abandon to the point of fanaticism than men. Many a stage play has revolved about women finding through religious excess all the romance denied them by life. There was "The Bride of the Lamb," for instance, revolving about a love-starved woman leading a drab existence who fell victim to the itinerant revivalist, to the destruction of herself and her family.

TO SAVE PA

But—convinced though we are that most men both take out insurance and religion "in their wife's name," there are occasional exceptions. For instance, there is 27-year-old Fred Conrad of Wapakoneta, O., who went on a 35-day hunger strike in order to chase devils out of his father and force him to join the church.

His concern with the souls of others as well as one's own is another supposedly peculiar feminine trait, but here again is disproven the idea that all men cling to traditional male actions, or that all women do the traditionally feminine.

THE "GABBIES"

Here's another annoyance, if not actual tragedy, brought about by "the gabbers," whom our favorite movie critic calls "the gabbers." It seems that because the usual movie house interruptions of people arriving at any old time and stumbling over one's knees during the picture films are in order, the movies are going on a matinee and one evening performance shift just like the regular stage programs, with no admission during a performance.

Oh gee! For years the charm of the movies to me has been their availability at any old hour of the day or night—an odd hour or so to fill, and there were the movies! But now—! Who ever got this smart talking movie idea, anyhow?

MATERIAL INSTINCT

Insane or sane, depraved or noble, the mother instinct seems to have a strange way of flourishing. Here's Mrs. Sarah Louise Northcott, variously called mother and grandmother of Gordon Northcott recently condemned to swing from the gallows for the murder of some small boys.

Mrs. Northcott, under sentence of life imprisonment herself, for the murder of a nine-year-old boy, flew into open rages in court at sight of her son's plight. This super-maternity which sticks by one's own offspring through anything, has been lauded enough by the poets. Sometimes one glimpses its power to make, rather than prevent, Gordon Northcotts.

The Carefree Way to Town

THIS way, you arrive in Los Angeles fresh for the day's activities. No traffic worries or parking fees when you ride the Big Red Cars. You can read or rest on the way. The motorman does the driving.

And commutation fares are only a trifle over 1 cent per mile. There's a real saving—enough to pay for a lot of things. Next summer's vacation, for instance. Figure it out in your own case.

Try the Red Cars for two weeks and you'll see why more and more people are finding this the practical, carefree way to go. Investigate the convenient schedules.

For Sunday travel, new $1.00 and $2.50 passes offer added convenience and economy.

Daily Lenten Thought

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
(Editor of The Congregationalist)

Worry is a form of distrust. It is an enemy of the soul because it never makes any situation better.

There are, of course, situations in which worry seems inevitable and in which it seems the right attitude toward trouble. We cannot think highly of a person who deludes himself into imagining that there is nothing wrong when, perhaps, there is a great deal wrong; and there are people in life who shrink their burden of worry and who take everything easy only by passing on the burden to somebody else.

But if we analyze the matter at all, we shall see that there is a great difference between the courage of faith, meeting wrong situations with the purpose of making them right, and the worry that simply weakens one's power of wise and courageous action in great emergencies.

Worry never yet solved any difficulty. The darker the night of one's experience, the more need there is of seeking light and hope and faith; whereas, worry only lets the gloom of night darken all the windows of the soul.

Worry breaks down the spirit, while hope and faith build up and inspire. It is just when there is most to worry about that one most needs the attitude of faith.

INTERESTING STORY COMES TO BROADWAY

The Rupert Hughes story, "The Girl of the Barge" will complete a successful run at the Yost Broadway theater with tonight's performances, and will yield place to the Universal feature film, "The Shakedown," with James Murray and lovely Barbara Bedford.

Scene from "The SHAKEDOWN" A UNIVERSAL SPECIAL

"The Shakedown" will open tomorrow at the Broadway, and is promised as a vivid and moving story of the prize ring and California oil fields. The story deals with the evil machinations of crooked fight promoters, and discloses how unscrupulous boxing managers stage fake fights for the main purpose of collecting bets.

James Murray, who has scored successes in such pictures as "The Crowd," "The Big City," and "In Old Kentucky," has the role of "Dave Roberts," a young oil well rigger. His character undergoes a surprising development as the story advances.

Barbara Kent as "Marjorie," shares starring honors with him and has had an equal screen experience. Others in the cast include such well-known screen players as Wheeler Oakman, Harry Gribbon and little Jack Hanlon.

Stage entertainment in conjunction with the picture will feature Barbara Bedford, famous motion picture star who heads the Broadway Revue for the three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Miss Bedford appears in an offering called "Musical Moments," promised as "singing, dancing and all that sort of thing." Willard and Luke will offer a comedy novelty "Fun on a Tramoline." "The Four Sailors" in "Gobs of Harmony" should please with their singing and comedy, Doyle and Winston are to do a comedy, singing and talking act. Ridgway and Darling will be comedians on the same bill.

'INTERFERENCE' HAS OPENING AT WALKER

"Interference," a Paramount picture featuring four popular film favorites, opened at the Walker theater last night, and was enthusiastically received by the first night audience who were of the opinion that they had witnessed a remarkable screen performance. It is the kind of a picture that lovers of sheer drama fairly revel in.

The four characters who handle the interesting situations are William Powell, Evelyn Brent, Clive Brook and Doris Kenyon. It would be impossible to single out any player for all four give a convincing performance and have been admirably cast for the story.

"Interference" originally was presented on the English stage where it enjoyed a healthy run for two years. Next it was brought to these shores and given a showing in New York where it ran for nine months and was acclaimed throughout its run. Its transition to the screen was logical, and no finer group of players could be found to give it its screen treatment.

"KING OF KINGS"

Cecil B. De Mille's great picture, "The King of Kings," is now showing at the West End theater, offering those who so far have missed seeing this epochal picture of Biblical times, an opportunity to see and enjoy the "greatest picture of the ages."

"The King of Kings" brings together in opposite roles three leading screen figures who, to a large extent, dominated the theater of Vienna a decade ago. They are Rudolph Schildkraut, Joseph Schildkraut and Victor Varconi, playing respectively the High Priest Calaphas, the false disciple Judas, and the Roman Governor Pontius Pilate.

The Maple Tree said, "I'll be nice to you if you'll take my advice. Who'll go upon an errand that is not so hard to do. It merely means you'll have to run, but it will lead to heaps of fun." "I will!" exclaimed wee Scouty, and the tree said, "Good for you!" "Just o'er the hill you'll find a house. Go up as quiet as a mouse and gently knock upon the door. A fat man will appear. You'll find him dressed up very slick. Please tell him that I want him quick. Then wait until he comes with you, and bring him right back here."

Then Scouty said, "I'll find that man." And o'er the hill he quickly ran. It wasn't very long until he came back on the run. The fat man yelled, "Hello there, bunch. I guess you're ready for some lunch. I've brought my pancake batter and my stove. We'll have some fun."

The little stove burned gasoline. The Tinies watch with interest keen while Mister Baker baked some cakes. Oh, my, but they looked fine. The Tinies gathered 'round a tree, sawed off as nice as it could be. Then Clowny shouted, "Hurry up. I'm ready now for mine."

The Maple Tree then hollered, "Wait. I'll pay for you to hesitate. Your cakes will taste lots better with my syrup spread on thick. Walk by me with your plates in hand, and I will show you something grand. Don't get my syrup on your clothes. It's always bound to stick."

So, with their pancakes piled up high, the Tinies calmly sauntered by the queer old maple tree, and its syrup slowly spilled. And then the whole bunch slowly ate, and all agreed the cakes were great. At last the baker said, "I guess you all are nicely filled."

NEW YORK CURB

By Richard L. Gridley
NEW YORK, March 6.—(UP)—General unsettlement prevailed in the curb market trading today with traders keeping a sharp outlook on the credit situation. Yesterday's large withdrawals from the demand loan market caused considerable apprehension in many quarters and bullish operations were held in restraint pending a more definite outlook in money.

Call money renewed at 8 per cent. against the overnight charge of 10 per cent. but it was felt that the price of the overnight stringency had not passed due to the forthcoming March 15 treasury financing and tax payments.

SUBURBAN HEIGHTS—WATERING THE PLANTS

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

WIFE REMARKS THAT AS LONG AS HE ISN'T DOING ANYTHING, WOULD HE MIND WATERING THE PLANTS.

FIVE MINUTES LATER, E-MERGES FROM KITCHEN TO ASK WHAT SHALL HE USE TO WATER THEM WITH.

REAPPEARS PRESENTLY TO SAY HE CAN'T FIND ANY PITCHER ON THE TOP SHELF.

WIFE COMES AND FINDS PITCHER FOR HIM. HE FILLS IT BRIM FULL, SO AS NOT TO HAVE TO MAKE A SECOND TRIP.

WIFE CALLS FOR PITCHER, BE CAREFUL HE'S SPILLING AT EVERY STEP.

REACHES PLANTS AND STARTS POURING, WATER RUNNING DOWN SIDE OF PITCHER.

SETS PITCHER DOWN TO SEE HOW MUCH WATER WENT IN HIS SHOE.

SCENES IN FLOODED SUB

Here are the first photos ever made in a sunken, flooded submarine. While navy experts were making safety tests with the reconditioned S-4 off Key West, Fla., a cameraman with specially designed equipment underwent the harrowing experience of submerging with the submarine and photographing the escape of its voluntary crew while the craft was flooded. In the upper photo you see Lieut. C. B. Momsen, inventor of the mechanical lung, adjusting the device in the engine room of the S-4. The water has reached the men's waists. As soon as the water and air pressure have been equalized, the divers will don their oxygen masks and leave through the safety hatch.

NEW YORK CURB

By Richard L. Gridley
NEW YORK, March 6.—(UP)—General unsettlement prevailed in the curb market trading today with traders keeping a sharp outlook on the credit situation. Yesterday's large withdrawals from the demand loan market caused considerable apprehension in many quarters and bullish operations were held in restraint pending a more definite outlook in money.

Call money renewed at 8 per cent. against the overnight charge of 10 per cent. but it was felt that the price of the overnight stringency had not passed due to the forthcoming March 15 treasury financing and tax payments.

SUBURBAN HEIGHTS—WATERING THE PLANTS

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

WIFE REMARKS THAT AS LONG AS HE ISN'T DOING ANYTHING, WOULD HE MIND WATERING THE PLANTS.

Goes over to plants and says they don't look as if they needed watering, but all right he will.

FIVE MINUTES LATER, E-MERGES FROM KITCHEN TO ASK WHAT SHALL HE USE TO WATER THEM WITH.

REAPPEARS PRESENTLY TO SAY HE CAN'T FIND ANY PITCHER ON THE TOP SHELF.

WIFE COMES AND FINDS PITCHER FOR HIM. HE FILLS IT BRIM FULL, SO AS NOT TO HAVE TO MAKE A SECOND TRIP.

WIFE CALLS FOR PITCHER, BE CAREFUL HE'S SPILLING AT EVERY STEP.

REACHES PLANTS AND STARTS POURING, WATER RUNNING DOWN SIDE OF PITCHER.

SETS PITCHER DOWN TO SEE HOW MUCH WATER WENT IN HIS SHOE.

WIFE SILENTLY WATERS THE PLANTS.

L. A. PRODUCE

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—(UP)—There was a moderate volume of trading on the Los Angeles market, the firm position of tomatoes, and other vegetables from Mexico, due to disturbed conditions in that country being the chief outstanding feature of today's trading.

Wassilla Newmarket apples sold at 70¢ a box for loose fruit at Santa Cruz county, averaging 80¢. Local celery held steady at $1.75 a crate, with Crula Vista celery at $2.25 a crate.

Local and San Diego county house cucumbers sold mostly within a range of $1.50 to $2.25 a dozen. Imperial Valley burbanke fruit was steady at $5.75 a box for the 48 size, with 64s at $4.25 to $4.50, 80s at $3.25 to $3.50, and 100s at $3.00 to $3.25.

Good lettuce met fairly good demand, but there was a considerable quantity of ordinary stock offered. Imperial Valley lettuce, 48-size, nobbed at $2.75 to $3.00, while 54-size brought $2.25 to $2.75, and 64-size $1.75 to $2.00 a crate.

Oranges continued in heavy supply, receipts by truck running between 6,000 and 7,000 boxes a day.

The onion market is weaker. Stockton white globes put off cold storage selling at mostly $5.00 per cwt. are about steady, car lot sales of California Burbanks being reported at $1.35 to $1.50 per cwt. with No. 1 Idaho Russets at $1.35 to $1.40, and Burbanks at $1.10 to $1.15 per cwt.

Italian squash was a little weaker at $1.00 to $1.50 a lug for Santa Ana county stock, with Santa Monica squash at $1.50 to $1.50.

Mexican tomatoes were a little higher, loose stock selling at 11¢ a pound, with original pack at $2.75 to $3.25 a lug.

L. A. STOCKS

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—(UP)—General inactivity continued on both curb and exchange today with the exception of a few classes in which an occasional sale was made.

The petroleum featured. Rio Grande New with a turnover of 3100 shares after selling off to 35 from an open 45 up at 35 1/2. Union Associates opened 1/4 up and gained to 45, selling 1100. Pacific Western Petroleum sold off to 2 1/4 on a 900 turn-over. Union dropped 10 to 10 1/2, the open and sold 15 more to a new low at 2.00 when 18,000 shares were unloaded.

Trans-America led the miscellaneous class by establishing a new high at 12 1/2. The stock sold off to 12 1/2 with a 600 turnover. L. A. Investment sold 600 and lost 2.30 from a high of 2.25.

Trading in bank issues was confined to L. A. First National rights in a sale of 900 at 3.00, unchanged.

Industrial showed no change and diamond-shaped public utilities were not mentioned during the early hours.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, March 6.—(UP)—Stringent conditions in the money market continued to exercise great restraint in stock market dealings today and prices sold off sharply in many sections of the list despite strength in special issues like the copper.

New lows on the movement were forced in principal trading stocks like Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, General Electric and Radio after some steadiness in the early trading.

Call money was easy at 8 per cent in the early trading, but banks soon withdrew large sums, forcing the demand rate first to 9 per cent at noon; 10 per cent at 1 o'clock; 11 per cent at 2 o'clock and 12 per cent at 2:20.

Each advance in the demand rate was the signal for large offerings of stocks, and liquidation proceeded in a steady stream throughout the afternoon. Even Anaconda, which advanced more than 4 points in early trading fell back sharply and entire list displayed a heavy tone.

However, strong scale down buying appeared in standard issues, and losses in most instances were held to only a few points. Brokers were advising clients to sell out holdings with the view of replacing them at concessions later in the week, and commission house advices of this kind were heard in the market.</

EVENING SALUTATION

Prosperity is a great teacher; adversity is a greater. Possession pampers the mind; privation strains and strengthens it.

—Hazlitt.

THE JUSTICE OF ALIMONY

Superior Judge Edmund P. Morgan, San Francisco, announced yesterday that in future he will refuse to grant "alimony-for-life" orders to able-bodied women. His decision is startling because of the injustice involved.

When a judge lays down a rule such as this, he saves himself from going into the merits of each case. It is lazy man's way of saving himself from the very work of discrimination for which he is employed. There is danger that because of flagrant cases of injustice where some divorced women are bleeding their former husbands, other more deserving women are to be deprived of justice.

Not many married women, even though they are not hampered with children, are fitted to earn their own living outside of their homes after they have been married a few years. The same situation holds for her as for a man who has spent a few years on some particular kind of labor—quite different from most other kinds. After a few years at that if he is for some reason forced out of it he is in a bad way. Business organizations are not interested in extending opportunities for people already past their youth to refresh past training or acquire new.

What would the judge have a woman who has been married five or ten years do? It is only the young, quick-fingered, mentally fresh women who find jobs. Being able-bodied doesn't count especially in one's favor except that a woman must not reveal any gray hairs or be obese. It is youth that is the great asset with real dollars and cents value.

The judge's decision suggests considerable argument. It is felt by many people that a woman who, when she marries, leaves her office or profession to establish a home or devote herself to her husband and thereafter deserves to share equally with him. Many of the sacrifices and economies are hers. She devotes her time and youth to the job of home-making—she sacrifices her masseuse, her stylish clothes, many times her rest and relaxation periods which would have kept her youthful and fresh. She concentrates on saving butter and eggs and making a little money go a long way on the table and then she is discarded from the only job she is fitted for, with only so much alimony as a judge, who probably doesn't know very much about the actualities facing a woman past her youth, sees fit. Time is money and the years that pass between a woman's marriage and divorce are of more value to her than the alimony her husband could give her, even if he gave her "alimony-for-life."

The matter is simple when a husband and wife, during their years together have accumulated tangible assets but when the accumulation is in the husband's business position the share for the wife seems to confuse many people. In such cases justice can be recognized easier by looking upon what the wife has sacrificed. She might have been earning and accumulating for herself had she not married. She might have a job equal to her husband's; she might have developed a little business of her own in those years; she might have saved enough to keep her from want during rainy day periods; she might have made a successful marriage for herself. But she and her husband choose the way of the home and after some years have passed she will be recompensed for those years so long as the judge who has established a no alimony-for-life rule thinks reasonable.

Fortunately the young women are settling matters for themselves by continuing with their work because they would get short measure from some judges. It is hardly the young married women's fault that the homes are not all that the conservatives would have them.

CHANGES IN PEORIA

A score of deaths in Peoria, Illinois, due to rum poison, is rather of an interesting character. Peoria for years was the world's whiskey center. One-fourth of the distilled spirits of this country were manufactured in the city of Peoria, Illinois. The Great Western Distillery and other distilleries of that place manufactured alcohol by the thousands of gallons.

We have passed through their warehouses which were always under government control, in custody of a federal officer, and been told that in this section was the raw alcohol, in this section it was a few months old, and so on down the line until the aged alcohol in the charred wood was of the mellow whiskey type.

And now Peoria drinkers must get their liquor from bootleggers and they in turn must get it wherever they can, and it is of wood alcohol variety or some other kind which is poisonous. At any rate it indicates that liquor is not being sold in any such quantities as it was in those days. At that time Peoria was dependent very largely upon the manufacture of alcohol for its business life.

SYMPATHY FOR MEXICO

It was with deep regret that the people have learned of a new civil war in Mexico. The revolution has broken out in three states and as usual a portion of the Federal army has deserted to the revolutionists.

Just about the time that Mexico has begun to gain a reputation for established peace and order some general or commander starts something somewhere. This may be simply a Mexican primary of the coming election, for the last election was entirely determined by bullets and not by ballots.

Nothing can permanently be accomplished in Mexico except by orderly process. If by any chance, and we think such a chance is entirely improbable and remote, the present government should be overthrown, there would be revolution continuing until the one which was established by force of arms would itself succumb.

The sympathies of most outsiders is undoubtedly with the government. Whatever may be its policy it has not yet had a chance to work it out or establish it.

TROTSKY WITHOUT A COUNTRY

Leon Trotsky seems to be a man without a country. He is seeking now a refuge where he can avoid the close imprisonment of the consulate at Constantinople and possibly recover to a degree, his health.

He has applied to Czechoslovakia for admission. Through their Minister of the Interior, the Czechoslovakians have sent word that they do not desire him in their country. If he cannot go into Czechoslovakia it would not appear that there are very many countries which would receive him. For certainly they would have as little to fear from a radical like Trotsky as any country in Europe. We doubt if Mussolini would object to him. He knows how to handle people more radical than himself. France has never drawn the line on very many people, but the value that Trotsky expects to get from baths and springs is not available in France.

The country whose government he was the second, if not the first, factor in establishing has forced him out as an exile. Trotsky is undoubtedly nearing his end for his physical condition is bad. It is strange that in the very country where they practically worship Lenin, they should drive his former pal away.

The Atchison Globe feels that since fireproof paper has been perfected, it is time to start a newspaper in hell. There's an editor's job for some Chicago police reporter.

SIX STATES AGREE

The southwest is to be congratulated today over the passage of the bill providing for Utah's re-entry into the six-state Colorado river compact. This insures the six states which make it necessary for the carrying out of the provisions of the pact.

Arizona alone is recalcitrant and remains in doubt. We believe that her citizens, as they see that the dam will be built and the provisions of the law finally carried out, and that they will gain more to join in as friends than they can ever gain by taking a hostile attitude and endeavoring to get privileges through the courts, will join in with the rest.

Abraham Lincoln, in his address in Cincinnati, we believe it was in '58, in discussing the question of the separation of the South into a separate federal government from that of the North, asked the southerners if they proposed to remove their country from that of the North. Then he made a sage utterance. He said: "Can aliens make treaties better than friends can make laws?" We would advise Arizona to read that portion of Mr. Lincoln's address. It contains much wisdom that might apply to their present situation.

Lending to Friends

—San Bernardino Sun

Appraisers of the estate of the late Tex Rickard discovered, among other things, evidences of numerous personal loans made by him and never repaid. In one year, 1919, these items reached a total of about $9,000. They appear to have been for the most part what are commonly known as "touches"—loans made purely on a basis of friendship or sympathy. Like most lenders in such cases, Rickard merely made a memorandum of each transaction without demanding security, often without obtaining as much as a promissory note. In one case he did take a check for $5,000, but it was never honored.

It would be interesting to know how many other loans were repaid. Probably the proportion was high, since sporting men are in the habit of honoring obligations of this kind, often paying them first before employing cash to discharge debts far more easily collectible at law. To repudiate them is too much like "welshing" on a bet; it destroys credit for future enterprises where credit is essential. Nevertheless, a man of importance in the sporting world is regarded as fair game by parasites and dead beats. If he is prosperous and successful he is expected to be generous and usually is. Submitting to a "touch" from an acquaintance is much like taking a gamble in human nature. The lender is fully aware of the import of what old Polonius said, even though he may not be quite sure whether Polonius was a character in Shakespeare or a fellow who made up one of them tunes the old folks used to dance to. A man, he knows, often loses both himself and friend, but he is almost always willing to take at least one chance. When he does he is likely to leave behind him a collection of dishonored checks and notes of the sort which Big Tim Sullivan called Kathleen Mavourneens. Not all of them represent broken faith, however. Very often the beneficiary was unable to make his promise good; sometimes the lender knew he never would be able to do so.

Modern "sporting men" are hard and shrewd enough to drive good bargains where contracts are to be signed and legal guaranties furnished. Yet a good deal of their business must be done upon nothing stronger than a spoken word or a nod. Human nature among them averages up with human nature elsewhere; it never has been proof against the borrower with a good story on his lips and perfidy in his heart.

Icebergs to Order

—Christian Science Monitor

There are a lot of lazy icebergs hanging around the north and south poles. This is indicated by oceanographers who say that the climates of Europe, India, Australia, South Africa and Argentina would benefit if the icebergs would move out of the arctic and antarctic regions a little more regularly. It is apparent that the bergs are getting to be too independent. They need discipline. If they will not move voluntarily, they should be made to move.

Meteorologists appear to be quite upset over the failure of the antarctic icebergs to develop westerly at a time when their help is needed in relieving the droughts in Argentina and Uruguay, and in South Africa and Australia. They all agree that there is no good reason for the bergs to stick around the poles as long as they do. And so it is proposed to bring modern engineering into play. It is held that the results to be obtained would be many times the costs involved in chipping off a dozen or so icebergs every now and then and shoving them into the ocean currents.

The melting of the great fields of icebergs as they move south or north, as the case may be, is said not only to reduce excessively hot temperatures in areas the climatic conditions of which are affected by various oceanic streams, but also to result in the maintenance of rainfall equilibrium. All that is necessary is to set them going. We may, therefore, at some time in the future, see the establishment in the arctic and antarctic regions of great ice-breaking or ice-cutting fleets awaiting, perhaps, radio orders similar to this: "Weather beginning to get hot. Temperature 98 in shade and no rain in sight. Ship down ten of your largest bergs at once."

Going After the Higher-Ups!

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

A SHOCK INDEED

The Turks, we've been wont to suppose,
Having wives in their homes by the swarm,
Are the fierce and implacable foes
Of our modern and moral reform.
We thought that the views that are held in Stamboul
By the folk of this swarthy hued nation
Regarding our strictly held marital rule
Were a blot upon civilization.

But their manners and customs have changed,
The Turks now lead ethical lives,
And most of their men are estranged
From all but just one of their wives.
From the spell of the night club's enticing allure
The Sultan's ex-subjects are free—
From the blight of the terrible jazz more secure,
Though we hate to admit it, than we are.

The films that we hold over here
To be free from a vestige of harm,
If in Turkey they chance to appear
Are viewed with dismay and alarm.
If the head of a Turkish community learns
That the youth of the city enjoys them,
He goes to the cinema promptly and burns
Or otherwise wholly destroys them.

In our smug and self satisfied way
We never could doubt in the least
That we're vastly more proper today
Than the people who dwell in the East.
So it gives us a bit of a jolt when we learn
We're regarded as morally murky
And our movies are viewed with distrust and concern
By the high minded people in Turkey.

HE MISSED SOMETHING

Too bad Mr. Coolidge did not acquire the angling habit till all those pretty little streams around Plymouth had been fished
WHO'D HAVE THOUGHT THAT?
It begins to look as if Leonardo Da Vinci must have spent a lot of time painting imitations of his own pictures.

Dr. Frank Crane's
Friendly Talk

By Dr. Frank Crane

THE TWO LEGS OF SUCCESS

Success has two legs, Enthusiasm and Hard Work.
You have sometimes seen a man trying to get along on one leg. It is hard work. He uses a crutch or an artificial limb.
When you walk well you want two good legs.
In all the recipes for success given by successful men I have seen sometimes one leg stressed and sometimes the other. They forget that it takes both.

You have to be interested in what you are doing. You must have ambitions or dreams or some such thing to stimulate you to do your best work.

Many men attribute their success to this.
On the other hand, you have to keep plugging along, just working every day whether you like it or not. As Dr. Johnson says: "Nulla die sine linea." "No day without a line."

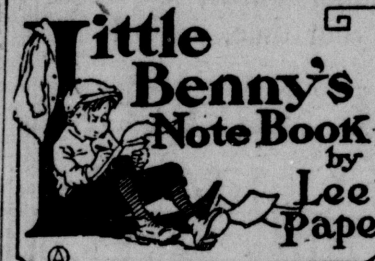

Any one who has achieved fame in any business, profession or art knows the amount of hard work he has expended.

From those who work hard without any vision or dreams comes the complaint that they are not appreciated and that their work seems to get them nowhere. But if a man has the combination of the two, both enthusiasm and hard work, he is able to make progress.

Success in any calling implies that one shall work faithfully and steadily. If, in addition to this, he has the vision to spur him on to greater efforts, he may be rewarded by victory in the end.

Especially is this true in writing. Some one has said that every man realizes that he cannot make a statue nor paint a picture without training in art. But it is very common to find people who think they have great ideas and could easily succeed in writing. They forget that writing is a trade and that one attains excellence only by continued exertion.

You cannot be a good writer nor a good bricklayer unless you work at your task constantly.
This is no aspersion on those who have great visions and those who are willing to work hard, but they should remember that the two things go together.
You cannot work on one leg.

In the Long Ago

From the Register Files

day each week.

Members of the Santa Ana
Chamber of Commerce voted that

THE FUTURE OF CORNSTALKS

A few weeks ago I commented upon the fact that the Prairie Farmer of Chicago and the Commercial News of Danville, Illinois, had issued editions printed on paper made from cornstalks.

From here, and yonder, the country over, I have received letters from readers asking further information about the possibilities of this new outlet for a farm product.

I have no first-hand knowledge of the paper-making problem, save such incidental information as I picked up in the years I was an editor, but a member of the Printing Division of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers has made the following estimate of the possibilities and limitations of "cornstalk paper" in a supplement to the February issue of Mechanical Engineering.

Dr. Bela Dornier began the development of the process for making cornstalk pulp about twelve years ago in Hungary.

The Dornier process was brought to the United States.

The Cornstalks Products Company of Danville, Illinois, further experimented with the process, and, as far as the chemical and operating aspects of the process are concerned, seems to have established its practical commercial possibility.

This Danville concern has a potential capacity of thirty to forty tons of cornstalk pulp per day. A ten-mile radius of territory around Danville, it is estimated, can furnish this plant with an adequate supply of cornstalks.

The cornstalks are taken directly from the field, shredded and baled, and sent to the plant by truck and trailer. At the plant, the shredded cornstalks are thrown into cooking tanks with cooking liquors. This cooking process produces a soft and brown-colored pulp. This brownish pulp is then bleached white.

The cornstalk pulp has a shorter fiber and is more easily hydrated than wood pulp or rag pulp. This makes cornstalk pulp especially adapted to the making of certain transparent or semi-transparent papers.

A stiff and brittle paper can be made by using a certain proportion of cornstalk pulp.

Experts doubt that we shall ever be able to use more than twenty per cent of cornstalk pulp in the making of printing paper if we want as good quality as we now use.

It is estimated that the farmer will realize from $3 to $5 an acre for his cornstalks.

HELPFUL HABITS

Many times parents speak of habits as though all habits were bad. "You make a habit of doing what you are told not to do." "Why make a habit of eating so fast?" But seldom do we hear a parent say, "You have a good habit of work." "You have a fine habit of eating." Habits are associated with wrong doing and they ought not to be. We are dependent upon good habits for good character.

But good habits are of slow growth. Just telling a child how and when to do something and having him do it that once, will not give him a working habit in that idea. He has to WISH to do this thing and do it under his own power before we can say that he has formed the habit.

A little boy or girl will not wash face and hands every time they should be washed although they have been taught to wash from the time they were born. The child must be conscious of the need to do this or that good action and then desire to do it, before the idea takes root in the habit group and forms a part of its character.

To be sure a 10-year-old child has some notion of the need of washing hands and face and some desire to do so, but there are other things he feels the need of doing, and many more he desires to do to a greater depth, than the face washing. It will be a few years before his personal appearance is on his mind so keenly that the habit is completed. For habit demands need, desire and PRACTICE.

A mother takes great pains to teach her little daughter to lay a table for luncheon. She sits by and patiently watches the process to the final polish on the salad forks. "And now you know how I expect you to do it exactly right the next time we have a luncheon party."

Oh, no. Some part of that experience will stick, but not all of it. Something will be placed wrong, something will be left out, some detail of service or decoration will be spoiled or omitted altogether. The girl will not be able to set that luncheon table until she has done it again and again. Practice alone will make an action

THE BIG CLINCH

FAIR AMERICAN: Oh, Algy, you English are too slow.
ENGLISHMAN: Er—I'm afraid I don't grasp you.
FAIR ONE: Yes, that's just it.—Tit-Bits.

FOR HIS BETTER HALF

BLACKSTON: Does your wife open your letters?
WHITEWATE: Only those marked "private."—Answers.

REFLECTION?

SPEAKER: These aren't my figures I'm quoting. They're the figures of a man who knows what he's talking about.—Answers.

FIRST HAND INFO

CLAIM AGENT: Are you badly hurt?
ACCIDENT VICTIM: Don't know. I haven't seen the paper yet.—Judge.

NEVER BEEN DONE

HOST (to friend proposing to go abroad with his wife): But isn't there a risk that the climate may disagree with your wife.
THE OTHER: It would hardly dare.—Passing Show.

THE MOTHER TONGUE

A vaudeville artist was singing "Baby Face," only he pronounced it "Bibby Face."

This wasn't going at all well with his audience, so a brother performer told him to sing it in better English.

"Yes," he replied, "but you see, 'Baby Face' doesn't rhyme with the next line—'Take your plice.'"—Tit-Bits.

TOO MUCH, IF ANY

The Spatts had been at it again.
"And furthermore," said Mrs. Spatt, concluding her long tirade, "you certainly aren't much of a husband."
"Well, my dear," her husband retorted, wearily, "I can truthfully say you are a lot of wife."—Tit-Bits.
